alaska folk festival

Welcome to the 31st Alaska Folk Festival, your Rx to cabin and spring "fever" all in one event! This is truly an Alaskan festival and performers are coming from all over the state as far north as Tok, as far south as Ketchikan and all points in between. We know you've been woodshedding all winter and look forward to hearing what youve come up with!

We're excited about this year's Guest Artists - all masters of their instruments and musicians with a long list of accomplishments. We hope you will enjoy their performances and take advantage of the workshops they are hosting.

Tune in to KTOO on the radio or online if you can't make it to Centennial Hall. The shows are all broadcast live at 104.3 FM or www.ktoo.org. We appreciate all the work the folks at KTOO do so you can keep up with the festival.

We have all kinds of goodies you can purchase to take home with you to remember the festival at the AFF merchandise table in the lobby. Most importantly we have membership forms if you are not a member or would like to renew or add on to your current membership. Please come by the table and one of our friendly volunteers will help get you signed up. Memberships are what keep this festival going. We can't do it without you!

I am always amazed when this week comes together. It is truly a unique event. Thank you again for everything you do to make this one of the best music festivals on the planet.

Cheers!

Maridon Boario
President, Alaska Folk Festival, Inc.

AFF Board members are all volunteers who love the Alaska Folk Festival and are willing to serve a three year term working on the board organizing the Festival. Here are the board members for this Festival.

Maridon Boario, President • Cindi Lagoudakis, Vice President
Chris Hess, Treasurer • Linda Frame, Secretary
Michael Sakarias • Greg McLaughlin • Nene Wolfe

The Annual Meeting of Alaska Folk Festival, Inc. is scheduled for Friday, April 15 at 5:00 p.m. in the National Guard Armory. We'll have pizza and soda for members. See you there!

Guest Artists for the 31st Annual Alaska Folk Festival

Jawbone

Eclectic, diverse, world reknown are just a few ways to describe this year's guest artists. Bruce Molsky, Paula Bradley, and Tony Trischka have come together to bring us a unique blend of bluegrass and old-time music. Each of them, accomplished artists from the East Coast, play music professionally, and travel around the globe to share American music traditions.

One of the most influential fiddlers of his generation, Bruce Molsky is also a remarkable guitarist, banjoist, and singer. His high-spirited music melds the archaic mountain sounds of Appalachia, the power of blues and the rhythmic intricacies of traditional African music. Bruce got his start on old-time fiddle with mentors Tommy Jarrell and Albert Hash. Molsky's solo recording Poor Man's Troubles (Rounder) won a 2001 Indie award for Best Traditional Folk Recording. Bruce's band Fiddlers 4 (Bruce, Darol Anger, Michael Doucet, and Rushad Eggleston) was a 2003 Grammy Nominee.

Paula Bradley is best known as a guitarist and vocalist with the old-time trio, The Rhythm Rats. Paula is known for her driving guitar style, influenced by the string-bands of the 1920s and 30s, her punchy banjo ukulele and claw-hammer banjo playing, her sweet lead and harmony singing, and her grace as a flatfoot dancer. Paula teaches at various music camps including Augusta, Swannanoa, Pinewoods, Valley of the Moon, and Rocky Mountain Fiddle Camp.

Tony Trischka has been blazing new trails on the banjo for the past forty years. A long-time Rounder recording artist, he opened up new, contemporary terrain for the five-string with his ground breaking debut album, Bluegrass Light. He has recorded with a panoply of artists including David Grisman, Bela Fleck, William S. Burroughs, members of REM, Charles Osgood, and Pete Seeger. He has toured in every state in the Union, and made frequent trips to Europe, Japan, Australia and Korea. The New York Times has referred to Tony as a modern banjo master, the godfather of what is sometimes called new-acoustic music.

Alaska Folk Festival 31 will clearly be in for a performance for the new millennium! Jawbone represents a potent combination of talents with an incredibly versatile instrumental arm. This is Americana for a new era.

It's no small undertaking to put on a seven-day long Festival!
A couple hundred folks have volunteered their time and skills, over the course of the year, to present this 31st Annual Alaska Folk Festival for your enjoyment. But, it takes money, too. This "free" festival still costs a lot of money. Without the financial support of our members, the Alaska Folk Festival could never happen. Fifteen dollars is all it takes to sign you up as a Basic Member. In the lists below, Sustaining Members are those who contributed $30 to $49 as their annual membership dues. Friends contributed $50 to $99. Patrons contribute over $100, and Benefactors contribute $250 or more. Get YOUR name in the Festival program next year. Go visit the Membership Table in the lobby and sign yourself up. Thanks to one and all!

The Folk Festival poster design was created by Eric Bealer.
He lives on a homestead in Pelican with his wife Pam and numerous animals.
Eric's unique wood block engravings create amazingly detailed prints.
This year's poster was carved in the same fashion on scratch board.
Posters, mugs, and shirts featuring Eric's design can be found at the Folk Festival Membership Table.

Thanks!

The Alaska Folk Festival is an all volunteer-run organization.
Thanks to all of the volunteers who lend their talent, time, and energy to this great event.

Special thanks to: Jamie Brown for organizing the workshops;
Art Morris for organizing Membership Table Volunteers; Cindi Lagoudakis & Bill Tremblay for creating and donating the backdrop;
and Warren Argo, Lucy Peckham, Albert McDonnell, and Mike Sakarias, our sound engineers;
thanks to all the businesses willing to let musicians jam (the Jam Spots!);
to Betsy Sims and the Silverbow for hosting the Songwriters' Showcase;
to Teri Tibbett for organizing the Family Concert;
and to Blue Riley and Lindsay Campbell for providing childcare;
to the Thursday Night Contra Dancers & the "Coffee and Jam" folks for their help with the dances; and a great big Thank you to Jack Fontanella for designing and maintaining the Folk Festival's website.

Thank you to the Board members:
Mike Sakarias for keeping the history of the Folk Fest in his computer and heart and the Board on track;
Nene Wolfe and Greg McLaughlin for coordinating the Guest Artists; Cindi Lagoudakis for ordering the merchandise; to Christine Hess for keeping the money straight and the budget balanced; and to Linda Frame for taking great notes and organizing all the MCs and Stage Managers, and Maridon Boario for providing the back beat for the Board.
Thanks to Jeff Brown for the Festival program design and to KTOO-FM for the live broadcasting. A special thanks to KTOO for the use of their board room for Folk Fest meetings and to Vicki Allison for putting up with the last minute calls from AFF to schedule the room!
More thanks to the entire staff of Centennial Hall as well as Sgt. Bob Shaw and Major Simon Brown of the National Guard Armory - The Folk Festival venues.

Special thanks to Senator Kim Elton and staff Paula Cadiente for helping to secure the Armory for this year's Dance Hall!

Thank you to the City and Borough of Juneau for a grant to reduce the expense of Centennial Hall; and to the Juneau Convention and Visitors Bureau for the lovely gift baskets for the Guest Artists.

And last but not least, a big thanks to the musicians and wonderful Juneauites for making this festival possible!

Mark your calendars! The 32nd Annual Alaska Folk Festival is scheduled for April 3-9, 2006!
