Log

1918

July 8th to December 25th 1919.

Governor of Alaska

(1920-1921-& 1923

1922-1924)

July 8th – Monday – Clear

Wagner and Prentice of the Salmon Creek Road House under arrest. Trial on Wednesday. I think the assistant District Attorney is trying to turn us down on the case. It also seems that E. C. Buger whom I employed to make some special innstigation may also have tipped my hand.

July 10 – Wednesday – Cloudy

Left Juneau at 5:30 P.m. with Mr. & Mrs. Shattuck bound for Sitka to look [on?] the Pioneers' House. Stopped at all the channel docks and did not get out of sight of the house until 9. Quite a crowd of Christian Scientists on board bound for Skagway to hear [Mr?] [Munn?] or Dunn [?] lecture. I had quite a talk with Mrs [Gunnasin?] about her husband and perhaps cheered her up a little. Entertainment in the cabin after dinner and they called on me. I talked of what Alaska had done in the war and then took up a collection for Mrs Jane's war work. Cleared $23.00.

July 11 – Thursday – Clowdy some rain

Got to Skagway at 11 a. m. and for the hour and a half we were there was busy looking up old friend. Went in to see Stevenson [sh? trip?] rank and told him that we did not like the way he was making [Ivans?]. Howard Curtis is among the outgoing passengers for Seattle on this boat the "Spokane".

He gave me the testimony of his trial. It was Shameful the way they persecuted him. Of cruse [course?]

he was completely exhonored. Roth [afterward?] told him that his department was the [best? new?] one of the whole lot. Browne undoubtadly had cooked the whole thing up. Browne is trying to belittle all my work and discredit me entirely. I am going to make things last for Browne.

July 20 – Saturday. Sitka Trip

The office has been so infernally busy since my return that I have been unable to make any timely comments, it was not until today that I was enabled to dictate answers to my correspondence which had accumulated during my absence.

The trip to Sitka was a great success and I enjoyed every minute of the time. Wm Shattuck and investigated conditions at the house and found that every thing was going along as well as could be expected. Of course there were some complaints from the inmates but even men condemned to death for murder have been known to complain of their treatment. Mr McGrath is very anxious to be appointed Superintendent and bring a good many charges against [Shoup?] but outside of a little political activity at the instance of [starving?] we could find nothing against him. If I appoint another superintendent it will naturally be for political reasons only. Personally I like [Shoup?] and think he is doing the best he can. He is [?] an out and out Republican and the people of Alaska believe in the good old Jeffersonian Jacksonian principles that to the victor belongs the spoils.

I found a picture of Peter the Great in the old Russian barracks and brought it home with me. It was a great find. I am now having it framed and repaired.

As there were no Steamer Connections at Sitka I [wired?] for the Submarine Chaser #309 to come after me and had a splendid trip home. The weather was perfect. The Captain apologized for the lenth of time taken – 12 hours on account of the breaking down of his main circulating pump. We were glad to get home under any circumstances.

The raid on the Salmon Creek Road House resulted in a fine of $500.00 for Billy Prentise.

Another raid netted 2400 bottles mostly beer belonging to a harlot named “Jew Annie.” She drew $400.00.

The effect of the naval patrol shown in the Calm and placid altitude of the J. W. W. and other agitation.

I met Howard Curtis at Skagway on the way over to Sitka. He has been shamefully abused by Browne. I have just written [Mr Edes?] demanding that Browne be fired. I suppose Edes will try to patch matters up. I doubt if I will accept any patching.

Last night we held a collection in town over the great American victory on the West front in France. Our boys according to our meager press dispatches mowed right through the [Huns?] and besides retaking Soissons rounded up over 1700 Dutchmen.

The painting of the mansion started today, the side porch is finished and a fence around the yard has been commenced. The house will look like something before long. We also have a flag pole now and for the first time a flag fl[?]ats above Governors House.

[?] back from home. Politics are in a mess there and the whole 2nd Division is in a turmoil. The Wickites are making a great noise and it is supposed that Wickersham will attempt a whirlwind campaign.

P. R Bradley the new food administrator seems to be making good. He has slightly advanced the price of salmon and has so organized the office of the food Administrator that it runs itself. Bradley only bothers himself with Fish.

We expect Mary Rotch here on the Alameda bout the 29th. Renée and I will leave her in charge of the [taxis?] and then [hit?] for the other parts of Alaska.

July 29th – Monday – Another beautiful day.

Mary Rotch arrived on the Alameda on Saturday. She looks tired and worn. Notwithstanding Kati's and my protests she had Frank's ashes consigned to the sea. Garland dropped them [about?] Cape [Mendicand?] light on his first voyage with his new ship. I read in her letter yesterday. It was all very pitiful. Poor old Frank alone way off there in Honolulu.

We have managed to [quish?] one Republican piece of agitation.

[pg.7]

I got the secretary of Commerce to allow Canadian ships to accept fresh fish for delivery at American ports. The law is not changed but the penalties are waived. Now it seems that the Canadian lines do not wish to carry fresh fish in their passenger steamers.

Fred [Ryns?] and wife are here. R. left the [Commission?] employ at [Nenana?] and is now here to take the examinations for appointment in the Engineer Corps.

Long Conference [tues?] afternoon with Henderson, the Commissioner of Education on school matters. He [seems?] a capable young man.

The American-French offensive is still the focus of attention. The papers and bulletins are full of the splendid way in which our men are acquitting themselves but I am afraid we are doing a little too much crowing and that we are paying [very?] high for the limited success obtained to date. The Germans are withdrawing in perfect order without [excession?] [?] in either men or equipment. If I were only allowed to run this war I should put my main work in on the Italkian front and go to Berlin via Vienna. Be that as it may people seem to have more confidence in Foch than in yours truly.

Painting of the house going on merrily. Today they started laying concrete wals at the house.

In the evening called a meeting of a few of the best element of democrats to discus ways and means of conducting an effective campaign for Sulzer against Wickersham. Those Present besides myself were Judge Jennings, J[?] R. W[?], Wm B[?]t, W. W. Casey Jas. Connors, Marshall [?], John [Frog?], J + S Hellenthal, J. M. Bell, H. P. Turner and Stroller White.

It was decided that Sulzer should [?] the following additional Plan[ks?]
1st G[?] 4 assistance to Gold mining
2nd Territorial [culture?] of fisheries and game.
3rd G[?] 4 operation of steamship and railroads during the period of the war with rates and schedules which would allow of continued development.
4th Proper [Australian?] ballot law.

Among these few people a fund to start operations was raised amounting to $850.00. Griggsly Jennings and I had already given $350.00 so we have a starter.

No suitable campaign manager can be found and D[?] the [Committiman?] is away.

The crowd smoked up six dollars worth of my best cigars and left at midnight.

Aug 4th Sunday –

Renée and I got off on the steamer “Alaska” on our long looked forward to trip. Left Juneau about 2:15 p. m. Proffessor Parkee and Dr Martin are on board going to the Westward Great grief at leaving the [kiddies?]. Room 33. Must get our table seats changed as there is a most horrible looking red dyed [?] slob right across from me.

[Pg. 9]

Aug 5 – Monday – Cloudy.

All day in Skagway unloading [?] freigh for [Nenana?]. Went to Mrs Pullens for all our meals. Mrs Pullen as talkative and energetic as ever. Bought a very handsome painting of a head of a malamute dog. It is really worth while. Bought some indian dolls for the diies and a spoon for mother [Grundenr?]. Oh yes and a pin for Emma. Renée wanted to buy two silver foxes at $250.00 per as a speculation but I was not enthusiastic. [Foregathered?] with [?] politicians and discussed the outlook.

War news continues good. Germans retreating beyond the [?] leaving 260,000 dead and 40,000 prisoners.

Aug 7th [Around?] in Cordova. Saw medley and Judge Bunnell who was on his way to hold court at Valdez for Judge Brown.

Aug 8th – Left Cordova on the private car Kenecott. Others on board Col. McGuire editor of “Outdoor Life” and a [man?] [James?] [from?] [Deune?] and two others. also Dr Martin of the Geological Survey. McGuire was completely on to our side of the Sulzer Game bill although he had previously been actin[g] on account of Dr H[?]aday’s propaganda. Arrived at Chitina about 6.30 after a wonderful day on the railroad.

Aug 14th

Around in Fairbanks on the 11th. Bobby Sheldon met us at Chitina and we got off on the 9th. Dr Martin only other member of the party. First day meiers Road House. 2nd day a fine drive of 126 miles to Richardson and the 3rd day into Fairbanks at 3.45. S[?] the mayor, Both Menzie and Claude Kelly with us near the 9 mill Road House and escorted us to town. The roads were the best I have ever seen them and we enjoyed the trip although Renée was getting a little tired toward the end. Sunday was the day we arrived.

Monday I wandered around Fairbanks and talked to many friends and acquaintances. We dined that night with Harry Pratt. The [Curtis?] trial and Browne regime are the greatest subject of conversation. If a man is fired they now speak of it as "browned". Browne's purchase orders are known as "scraps of paper." Everyone is very much disgusted with Browne. Edes and the Commission.

Tuesday. I met the [divisional?] committee and talked politics and think I managed to get up a better feeling all around. People are dis courage and of course cannot see that it is Alaska's contribution to the war. Rumor and gossip are very rife and this winter it will be Hell. Browne is trying to hide his stampede behind the district attorney and placing all the blame on him. My personal opinion of him is that he is scared of his job on account of his promiscuous activities and has [involved?] himself in so many lies that he does not know how to get out from under. Roth the district attorney is now more after his scalp than he was after [Curtis?].

It is all a pretty muddle. On the street the saying is that Browne is trying to get rid of every Riggs man and will not employ anyone but a mason. That he is anything but sincere is evident. The paers are just waiting an opportunity to break lose on Edes, the Commission and Browne. Probably me also although they profer great friendship to me personally. Wickersham is going to make his campaign with an attack on the railroad as the principle item. We dined with District Attorney Roth.

Wednesday.

All [?] an experimental farm. Had the inspiration that there is enough wheat in the [Lauana?] Valley to support a flour mill. Gave the story to Cashey of the citizen and he wrote it up but did not give me any credit for it. Dined with the [?]

War Allies still advancing although slowly and German morale going fast. Col senior of the Signal Corps told me of how Pershing got pushed up in first place. He was sent down to make a report of [?] situation in Phillipines. Reported that the campaign must be continued. The colonel was then promoted. All the majors part on other duty. This left Pershing the senior captain. Orders were then given to wipe out the [?] and Pershing did it. For this he was promoted from captain to brigadier general

As [Lenin?] says, "It is a great thing to have a father-in-law provided one can make good afterward." Pershing may have been unduly promoted but he certainly has made good. Our men are putting the "pep" in the whole battle front.

Edes [?] frantically that Browne is a much abused person and that he [?] everything he has done. The old man will stick up for everthing. connected with the old E? P?] even though he knows he is wrong. I am afraid the break has come at last. I have put up with a great deal of indignity at his hands but I have now quit.

Curtis goes to the front as a major.

Aug 18th Sunday.

We got away from Nenana on Woodbury Abby's boat chartered for the land Office at 1.30. p. m.

Our stay in Fairbanks was most enjoyable. Last night the city gave us a Beautiful reception at the masonic Temple at which there were about 200 people. I was called on for a few remarks and tried to cheer them up. Everything at Fairbanks is very dead. All called away by the war or by the war emergency work. We had a good trip down on the ""[Nita?]" arriving about 6.30. Went to the Southern Hotel. Looked up Wm. W. A. Ryan, special Assistant to the secretary and had a long talk with him concerning the commissary situation.

[pg.13]

Aug 21st Wednesday

Under way again on the "Yukon" bound for Tanana and St Michael. Our old friend Capt Jack Green and pilot Newcomb.

Our stay in Nenana was pleasant and sad. It was hard to wander around what we had seen grow up from nothing and feel a stranger. Most of the familiar faces gone. Monday Renée and I wandered around and looked on all the old places and Renée was nearly in tears on account of the association of the place with the babes. We almost expected to see Emma and the babies appear at any minute. Monday night we had dinner with the Mores and Tuesday with the Halls. Mr. Browne the Engineer in charge and [his Browne?] were most cordial and Tuesday we had a trip out the old and new lines. [Last?] Slough could not be controlled and Browne built a new line around it. To my mind he wasted 1 ½ miles of track already laid and ballasted and 5 miles of old grade [brides?] losing a great deal of time. The extra cash I figure will amount to about $45,000.00.

Investigation

I looked carefully into the alledged graft in the commissary and came briefly to the following conclusion.

I That Browne was filled up with all sorts of minors concerning graft and stamped. Realizing his mistake he tried to pass the buck to the district attorney who had also stamped and sent a [?] telegram to the attorney-general.

.....

II Filled up with the complete idea of graft Browne came to Nenana and having stamped tried every one right and left on every minor brought to him. Haven the marshall who also stamped passed all the rumors on to Browne. Browne tried men without assigning cause and they in turn [?] stories on others, who were in turn tried.

III Browne asked the district attorney to recommend auditors and investigators. Roth telephoned Judge Bunnell who recommended W. F. [Whiteley?] and for [Heacock?]. These two discovered an item of meat transfer which looked as though Curtis had sold meat to W[?]chter Ben. Curtis had resigned or been fired, paid off and gone. Roth had him brought back under arrest. At the hearing before the commissioner Curtis was exonerated. Browne evidently wanted to convict Curtis as he refused to testify until [? p?] and paid his witness fees and [?] to allow the books to be brought into court until threatened with court proceedings.

IV While he did not personally wish to discredit my administration, his action did actually do so.

V [Whiteley?] evidently had set out to "get" somebody particularly Curtis possibly me as I had refused to appoint him

.....

[pg.15]
Territorial Treasurer.

VI All actions were taken at the instance of Browne, who when he found that he had pulled down a hornets nest on his ears resorted to almost anything to clear himself and hold his job, camouflaged and passed the buck and got himself more and more [?] until he is nearly crazy.

VII Whiteley is in all probability knocking down in a small way. The particular case being at the Juneau restaurant where he ran a tab for $55.00 and then got "Dutch" [Rodigkeit?] the proprietor to sign a voucher for $85.00. A warrent is out for his arrest in case he should try to leave the country.

VIII Browne is a poor manager of men and is absolutely no [executor?]. He has probably held several construction and locating jobs but never been a manager of a big project.

IX Ryan is absolutely fair and impartial and I think he will [sift? Mathew?] to the bottom.

X Browne I think is both an honest man and a consummate damn fool. I do not think that he is a good engineer.

.....

Aug 25th Sunday – In Tanana

Left Nenana on Tuesday and arrived here Wednesday. Another [odious?] reception Our money is not good here for meals or lodgings. Mrs R[?]tree came down with us from Nenana and is here at the mission. We are rally[esting?] and [lrafin?]]. The first night or [?] here I gave a free [?] talk at the [?] house and Friday I was booked for two. Out at the barracks and the other at our reception which was given in the [?] gym. Wickersham is here and gave a speech last night. His attack is personal entirely. He [jumps?] me for being a Republican because I worked for 12 years under a republican administration. He has no care and I think will be thrown out entirely.

Aug 31st – Saturday – At Old [Hamilton?], [Alaskan?] mouth of the Yukon.

We left Tanana Sunday night the 25th after the Alaska got in from the upper river. We dined at [?] and then all went to the picture show to [?] through 3 ½ hours of “Intolerance.” On board at 2 and away. Our stay in Tanana was made very pleasant. We called at the mission and I had quite a talk with my old enemy Arch-decon suck concerning the natives. The natives are a great problem – lazy, diseased and easy prey for the degenerate whites.

While in Tanana I made two speeches. One [the press might in?] got in at the picture show and the other on Friday night when they gave us a reception and dance. Jimmi the Wick and I had quite a talk and we both acted as though we admired each other intensely.

.....

On the way down river we found that the famous #11 room had been assigned to us on the packet “Sarah.” It had all been decorated with American flags and pictures of the president but in a miniature life preserver – “Our life preserver”, flowers and napkins twisted into all sorts of weird shapes.

At Ruby I met my old firend of Dawson days, Henry Wallace and talked politics. Renée met all the women.

At [?], more politics to offset Wick. At Holy Cross we met Bishop Laimont and the fathers and sisters. The hoisted the flag as we rounded the point and came down to meet us. At the school the sisters had arranged exercises for or benefit which were remarkable for [?], and most creditable. We were presented a beautiful little pair of moccasins for Lisette and a bouquet of flowers. I made the children a little speech – then away again. At Holy Cross we picked up the mother Superior of the [Ursalms? ?] and three other nuns. The mother is establishing schools – a fine old character, crippled by an accident but interested in every thing. They are now [landed?] for the [Rorgarok?] to put in a mission.

We are picking up passengers now all the time bound for the [?]

[pg.18]

From the [Keoykuk?], they come from [Nulato?]. Holy Cross, Ruby, the Iditarod, Marshall, the country will be depopulated. All called to war work or driven from the country on account of the great demand for labor outside or because the prices of living and working have so advanced that they cannot keep the mines going.

We stopped at the cannery on the Andreafsky river and part off [wood?]. Renée got into a native kyak and was greatly thrilled. Not so much thrilled however when about an hour later I picked a [?] off of her neck. There was a wild yell and she started to dissolve in public. I bought a very good ivory three pronged duck spear at Andreafsky.

The wind blowing a hurricane today and we are tied up at Old Hamilton. – Nothing but a little trading post and some Esquimeaux huts. I bought a good spear. Renée bought some candy and distributed it to the little esquimeaux. They look very quaint in their parkas also very dirty.

One of our fellow passengers is Lt. Col. [Lenoir?] of the signal corps in charge of all the Army [?] and cables in Alaska. A most pleasant man.

Everything on the “Sarah” is excellent. Good food, good service and good crew. Cap’t Lancaster puts himself out to be agreeable.

.....

[pg.19]

One of our most interesting stops was at Russian mission. The church had unexpected treasures in it. One of the paintings of some old saint was a gem. All the paintings were good and some of the [?] work very beautiful.

After leaving Russian Mission we sat in the pilot house and listened to Chris Betsch relate his experiences of many years in the north. Chris is now a prosperous trader and well liked.

Mountain Village where we stopped last night contained a surprise in having for the government school teacher and old acquaintance of mine - Coth. One time foot ball player at Harvard, [trze?] fighter and adventurer. Now [raced?] up through the influence of his wife.

We have seen a great deal on this trip and enjoyed it all.

The [meetings?] we get at the various stations along the line are most encouraging. The allies are advancing with regularity and the German moral seems to be going. We anxiously await the next [meeting?] which will be at St Michael.

Last night a dance. There is a very good violinist on board name Olina. I dance with all the women on board except the “lady” [?] from Iditarod who was recently fined $250.00 for [seductions?].

I forgot to mention that we picked up one dog "Boto" at Nenana. While he had not seen us for a year, he was delighted to see us and remembered us right away. He is now on the [barge?] filled with love and peace.

Today Renée has a little cold and is taking [Urotropiu?] The [cruise?] was too much for her.

Sept 1st Sunday – Stephens Point.

Four weeks today on one journey. All night at Old Fork Hamilton on account of wind. [Funny?] little Esquimo village and trading post. Bought a small hunting spear with ivory barb from a native. Renée and I bought 50 cents worth of candy and donated to all the queer little kids. Dance in the evening.

Today left the mouth of the river but high winds came up so anchored to the [lee?] of Stephens Point at St Michael Island.

Patriotic speech in the evening. Star spangled Banner and America. Renée with bad cold.

Some very nice Ursaline sisters on board with their mother superior, a fine old woman crippled but still energetic. She is establishing schools for natives. One sister a sister Angela is particularly interesting. She was a miss Lincoln of Cincinnati, Ohio.

A [?] Davids also on board who writes for the N. Y. American. A bunch of draft boys for St Michael and the usual lot of people leaving the country. Mrs [Stebts?] the wife of the Commissioner on the Kuskokwim has not seen another white woman for some years.

Sept 5th – St. Michael

We got into St. Michael on Monday the 2nd after spending the night back of Stephen's Point. No sooner were we in the harbor of St. Michael in the morning then a gale sprang up and we had to take shelter across the bay. The little harbor boat [hlouing?] to the post came on and took us off. That night the soldiers gave a party at the [morie?] home in our honor and I had to make a speech.

Tuesday the Esquimo gave a dance for us at the Kazim which was interesting if not particularly entertaining. The dance show the influence of orientation. The setting was picturesque, the black back ground of the kazim, the men on the shelves + the women and children on the floor. The roof opening was fringed with watching faces. In the center of the floor the half naked dancers [sured?] and stank while the old men at the end of the room pounded on their tom toms and made weird and awful noises at the top of their voices. The old chief and I exchanged a few polite nothings through the medium of an interpreter at the end of the show. I presented my tea and candy and he departed, glad to get out once more into the open air. In the evening a [?] given by the Pioneers. More speeches. These Alaskans certainly like to be talked at. It is not necessary to say anything. The more at [?] your speech, the greater the impression made.

Waiting for the "Arctic" to get one from home. In the mean while we are waiting here more or less patiently, having Indian curios and [tashets?] to wile away the time.

Renée is getting over her cold and I have caught it and have a dandy. Co. B. 14th infantry is here we having caught up with it. Their transport has not yet arrived. Dick Ward, Case, Meagher, Douse, [Rerson?], and thirty or forty other Nenana boys in it. They are still living on the Barge in which they came down river and are heartily sick of it. Renée rustled up a lorry at the A. G. W. in which they can sit and write letters. Arctic in and we left at 5.30 p. m.

September 9th Monday – home

We spent Thursday night the 5th in great discomfort the “Arctic” is a little tub about 40 feet over all, dirty and with absolutely no place to sit. In all there were 14 passengers all men except Renée and Miss David who came over with us. Fortunately the night was good so we slept out on deck in some Army sheets Col. [Lenoir?] brought with him. It got pretty [?gh] just before we anchored for the darkest hours in [G?] Bay. My cold was my bad so I was very uncomfortable and really quite ill. We arrived in house at about 5.30 p. m. The launch [g?in] with a reception committee put out to meet us and take us ashore. The mayor, Bishop Rowe, Father Post, Rev [Shank?], chief deputy Miller and a lot of others. Rooms had been engaged at the Golden Gate Hotel. Whistles blew and there was quite an excitement. The fish person I met was the “Scurvy Kid” from Nenana. Nearly the whole population was at the dock.

That evening we had dinner with mayor [Lomen?], Judge Haltzheimer and their wives, Mrs. Londehug, Mrs Slinnem, Col Laurie Miss Davids and some others. We took baths and went to bed early. Saturday I knocked around and met the people and had quite a long talk with Judge Holtzheimer. Marshall Jordan has raised Cain here and the whole camp is divided into opposing factions. The Jordan bunch is the dirtiest bunch I have run against in Alaska they will. They tried to harm poor old Holtzheimer badly because he would not be dicated to. One of the plants was to have him dance with a certain womqan who was to smack his face in the middle of the ball room and then say he had [?] her. Fortunately he did not ask her. While [Sumeer?] was here making his investigation they discovered the district attorney eyes dropping from the room above. M[o]nday or [?] the district attorney immediately resigned. Glad to say that Jordan is now away. Probably in Washington. We dined that night at the Holtzheimers and there went to a public reception and dance. Of course I had to make another speech.

Sunday we looked over the life saving station, and in the evening went to hear Bishop [Rowz?]. He made a very strong talk and I liked his sermon although I cannot quite bring my self to take him as entirely sincere. After church we spent a much interesting two hours at

.....

Dr Neuman's office viewing his collection of Esquimo relics the use of which he explained as he went along. He had some splendid specimens. He gave Renée a beautiful ivory bow drill from St Lawrence Island.

Today we did chores in the morning and dined at the Lomens. Immediately after dinner I left to meet a committee from the striking Miners' Union. Before dinner I forgot to mention we went out to the Pioneer mining Plant on its 3rd Beach line and saw their operations. We all nearly blew away and it was very cold.

At the committee meeting Mr R P. Bonham a government conciliator was present. The strike is to enforce a general eight hour law prohibiting anyone from working more than eight hours. The strike is mainly directed against the Pioneer Mining Co. The men are of the very worst type of J. W. W. agitators. No appeal can be made to decency or patriotism. They simply want to destroy any existing regime of law and order. I must say however that they were very decent to me and said they appreciated my interest in the welfare of the community at large.

A hot bath and to bed. That is Renée's bath was hot but mine only luke warm.

We will be glad to get out from here. One never knows when one is going to be stuck in the back.

Our advance on the Western fronts seems to be slackening. Germans back to 1917 time.

Sept 11th Wednesday.

Lonely day. Met with the Divisional Committee in the morning and discussed politics and appointments. I think I managed to get a little more harmony. In the afternoon we went out on board Steffanson's exploring ship the "Polar Bear". Just down from a three year's trip to the Arctic. It was very interesting. We went on with the life saving crew. Renée was particularly smitten with a puppy born on board the [?] being a Victoria land [?]. Miss Davids went off with us and had the time of her life.

In the evening a large dinner party at Jafet Lindeburgs. Got home about 1 a. m.

Politics here are in the worst possible shape. Marshall Jordan, a thug of the worst type is trying to aide the court and the courts objects. Holtzheimer the judge is a clean judge part argumentation and not very politic. District Attorney [Sunier?] was sent up from Juneau to investigate and is now in Washington. The local district attorney was caught eves-dropping on Sunier and Holtzheimer and resigned. The Wickersham men seized the opportunity to [?] all [breaches?] and got possession of the [Malmey?] supporters. The whole town is partisan one way or the other and us are knows where they “are at”. The Jordan gang seem to have the best of it.

.....

Last night a [social?] given by the Sulzer Club at the Log Cabin Club. About fifty present. I declared my principles of [democracy?]. The Wickersham Democrats like Duly were all absent.

Today the Industrial Worker actually came out with a friendly article. Lindeberg for [?], 21 present. Got home at 1 a.m. Sept 12th Got tickets, bought photo, and gathered up [?] junk at shops.

All here seem impressed with the idea of forming an Historical Society. Dr Neuman one of the Bolshiviki is particularly impressed and he is quite a wonder so far as the esquimo are concerned. I have promised to publish his book.

In afternoon went in auto to see the territorial [road?]. O. D. Cochrane drove us out in his car. John Wilson and Dan Jones of the road commission along with us. Pretty cold.

Tonights paper tells of the great offensive by the American army in France around St Michiel – Great war. Our men know how to fight.

After dinner at [?]café we went to a meeting at the Loyal Legion which has gotten into the hands of the enemy and made them a patriots address and in terms of patriotism told them where they got off namely as an unofficial patriotic order.

Sept. 13 – Friday –
Frawley and Daly came in to see me this morning. They want the support of the democratic organization but do not want to come out with a pronouncement for Sulzer. They say they will vote for Sulzer but want a place on the committee without doing anything for the organization. I told them that I would try to bring about harmony.

In the evening there was a banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce. About 67 or 68 present. I made my [house?] speech about trying to help in Commercial development and spoke of my publicity schemes.

Bishop Rour made an effective speech on keeping ourselves in moral shape etc. We woke up at 1 a. m. All very much bored. Great American victory at St Micheil.

Sept 14 – Saturday.

In morning [?] Kegstad and Fey about Marshall Ship. I promised to do what I could.

Next the [An't?] Commissioner of Health regarding the health of the division. Next Judge Woltzheimer on politics in general. – John Wilem on roads.

Feeling rather worn out. Renée and I went to see Dr Neuman who made us members of the Keauock Society, and gave us the badge. - An eagle carved on old ivory. He offered his collection to the territory for $20.000. I hope to be able to buy it. It will be a great add for us.

In the evening a Mr + Mrs Hubbard gave a dance at the Eni Club which was very pleasant. The Eni Club is the famous log cabin club mill by Albert Fink and is a work of art, unique in every way. At 12 o'clock seven or eight esquimo in their parka's came in and danced.

[pg.28]

Sept 14th Tuesday.

Bad storm on. All the mosquito fleet have fled for the shelter of the sledge Island. The "Victoria" is storm bound at St Michael and there is no telling when we will get away. We had dinner with chief deputy A. B. Miller. Miller tried to tell me how much Marshal Jordan loves me. After dinner we called on Father Post the catholic missionary who deluged us with gifts.

Yesterday afternoon we were at Mr Shield's The Bureau of Education man who showed us reindeer and esquimo slides + gave us presents – Renée a knife beautifully carved and me a walrus head. We now have more junk than we know what to do with.

I seem to have caused quite a change of heart in Nome. Dr Neuman tells me that he now intends to vote for Sulzer and W. J. Rowe have snatched his allegiance. Nome used to be very much opposed to me but they seem to have swung around. I would not be at all surprised if we carried the division.

I wired the attorney general asking permission for Roth to campaign in the [first?] and [third?] and now I am in receipt of a telegram from [Tom J mohn?]

.....

[pg.29]

that Griggsby is to campaign in the fourth. Sulzer is in Alaska and will make particular effort in the first and third.

We are all much thrilled over the great American victory at St Michiel. Germany trying another peace offensive.

September 18th – Wednesday.

In a. m. Daly + Polet of the Council of Defense doing nothing but talk. I appointed [five?] new members for [Nome?] and 5 for Hay [crck?]. In afternoon saw Hugh O'neill and while writing letters in Judge's office got way laid by McGann and Holtzheimer and talked politics. In meanwhile Renée waiting for me to take her out to tea. Very much pea[v?]d when I came back. Dinner at the [Lindebergs?]. No news today of the Victoria.

Sept 19 – Thursday

Went by dogsmobile to head of Anvil Creek on the Seward Peninsula Railroad. Polet and Frawley along. They pointed out the great advantage the acquisition of the railroad would be to the territory. I cannot see it that way. The salvage of the [?] is possibly $300.00 per mile and it is offered at $2500.00 per mile so naturally I am suspicious. The rails are 30th laid on 4x6 ties on the tundra without any road [bed?]. It would cost $1500.00 per mile to even run an auto car over the line and the line is 82 miles long Nome to [Sheldon?]

Dinner with Bishop Rowe + W. J. Rowe. Wound up at Dr Fromm's for a very stupid evening. Victoria in late.

[pg.30]

Sept 20 – Friday.

At last got away on the Victoria at about 8 p.m. Room #27. Crowded list. Practically everyone is leaving Nome who can get away. There will not be 400 people left for the winter. Quite a crowd down to see us off.

Sept 21 – Saturday

Bad storm. Fortunately at our backs but the old tub very rocky. Neither Renée nor I sick however. Not many at meals.

Nome political situation bad. Judge and Marshall clashing. The marshall undoubtedly trying to “get” the judge and the judge running around and talking about it to everybody who will take the time to listen to him. All of the marshall’s office turning against Sulzer and doing all in their power for Wickersham. Nome in the worst little hotbed of intrigue I have seen in the territory and that is saying a whole lot.

Sept 24 – Sunday.

Got into Port Moller last night and had to lie there until this morning until the “Valdez” cleaned up the salmon pack when we look on the cannery crew. An old timer died on board last night and at sundown today he was given a burial at sea. We all gathered on the after boat deck, while Father Polan intoned the catholic [?] since the flag was half mast and the ship’s bell tolled. We all sang “heaven my god to thee” and then the first officer tilted the slide and the poor piece of clay splashed down to his last camping ground.

We then went to the captain’s cabin and heard tales of wrecks and battles with the sea.

Sept 25th – Wednesday

A perfect day. We called at Marzani? Bay for the crew of another cannery and passed westward out of the Shumagin Islands to get to open water on our way to Seward. The volcano in plain sight all of the afternoon. One of the most perfect sights I have ever seen. The hill was smoking and the scenery was marvelous. The volcano is a perfect cone. Mrs Berger and I broke the law and took some pictures of the mountains.

At night we had a little party in Dr Arnold’s room with real coffee.

Sept 29th – Sunday

Arrived Seward Sept 29th at 11 p.m. The Victoria was not expected in until about 12 so only a few met us at the station. We were [driven?] to the Seward Hotel. (28th) next day seeing every one. Review of Horse guards at 7.15 opening of 4th [libry? tran? Divn?] at the movies at 8.30. Reception and speeches at A.B. Hall at 9.30. 29th This morning a meeting of the [?] of National Refuse at 10.30. Sr Rownig, falls [raudupose?] at hospital at 1.30. Dinner at Sam Graef’s at 4.

Renée has had cold. Seward is a town of sore heads. All wanting [pap?] and pork, even the hospital wants to get a subsidy.

We were to have left on the [?] for Anchorage tonight but a land slide at Mile 84 blocked the [g?], so we are back in the hotel glad of being alone.

Another flood this year has pile gravel up in Lowll Creek so it seems that it will be impossible to hold it on top of the hill much longer. The people of Seward want the territory or the government to do something for them.

A telegram from [Cramer?] says that Juneau is having a flood and that he and the Finnegans have been [obliged?] to move in the mansion. Reports indicate that there has been a great loss of property in the Casey-Shattuck addition.

Alaska is starting the [liberty tran drive?] well. The Alaska Packers have taken the entire quota which gives me an opportunity to draw attention to the fact that we are now mighty glad to pass the buck to the corporations and say that we must equal this from private sources or withdraw opposition to the companies.

[?] the engineer in charge here is leaving shortly for the [away?]. He has had all he can stand of it.

Wickersham has just left here. Always speaks to me as "Little Tommy Riggs". People seem to take this as quite a joke, because I am not so very little after all.

.....

Sept 30 – Monday –

The Weirs and we left Seward at 8.30 for Anchorage over the railroad – the first through train between Seward and Anchorage. By [dint?] of hard work Weir had cribbed all the wash outs and called up Anchorage for orders off his division. Gerig had shot a coyote hole for [?allart] and carved the track at 84 and was in doubt about getting a clear track but Weir [?] him into putting a shore in and working his extra gang on time. We made good time to mile 52 and were then held up by derailment of [tender?] and a box car [carved?] by a spread rail on some old ties.

Mr + Mrs Edes, Gerig, Judge David and a Mr McCormick met us at 84.

Mr McCormick was set up by the Secretary to investigate traffic possibilities. We arrived in Anchorage at 7.30 and were met by the home guard who escorted the rig to the Edes. I made them a short speech. Later [Shorwhck?] came and got me to talk over various matters. We discussed every thing from [?] to politics until 1:30 a.m.

Mr Edes and I nearly came to blows over Browne at Nenana.

Oct 1st – Thursday

We could get nothing much on steamers from Seward except that the Admiral Schley and the Admiral Farragut would probably be in tomorrow, consequently it [?] us to get away about 8 a.m. We got back to Seward about 5.30. The Weirs had dinner with us. It seemed that the Schley was the only sure way to get in so we took passage on her. Room 22. Before getting in board Renée + I went to the movies. After the movies John Ronan came in looking for the mine inspector's job but I had to turn him down on account of lack of technical knowledge. Next Dr [Banghman?] brought in "Bobs" and talked game. Renée + I went in a moment to see Mrs James and got on board the boat about 11. A number of people down to see us off. Perhaps I have not mentioned heretofore that "Bobs" is our Llewellyn setter we had left in Nenana and picked up this year. To bed tired and sleepy.

.....

[pg.34]

Oct 2nd – Wednesday.

Got up late. Got to La Touche at 2 p. m. Stanward the Guggeuheim manager met us and took us over to his home where we met Mrs Stanward a bride of a few months and a Mrs Pressby. I suggested that we stay over for dinner and that I make a Liberty Loan speech at the movies then catch the ship at Sawmill Bay. We did this [thing?]. Renée says I made a very good speech. We came over in a wobbly little boat which nearly made us sick and turned in about 11.30
Tired again

Oct 3rd Thursday-

Our next stop Valdez. Tom D[owher?] and others at the dock to meet us on our arrival. Luncheon at the D[?] and a reception at Eagle Hall which was well attended. Another speech on the general condition of the territory. Dinner at Lony Dimond's and then to the movies where I made another speech on the Liberty Loan. Dr Silverman drove us down to the boat right after the show as Renée was feeling badly and we were both glad to turn in. "Bobs" ran all over town and even came to my speech at the reception and talked a little himself, he discussed Renée and curled up at her feet and snored.

Oct 4th Friday

Stayed in bed late. First stop Fidalgo bay to take on ore, next sheep Bay to take on Salmon, Cordova at almost 9. p. m. Went up town for a few hours to talk business and politics.

Oct 5th – Saturday – Got away from Cordova about 5. a. m. Yakutat in pm.m.

Oct 6 – Sunday- Arrived home at Juneau about 3. pm m. rain Mary, the kids, Cramer and others down to meet us. All well and happy. Good to get home.

Hard long day at office

Oct 9 – Wednesday

Started writing report. Cramer had gotten up as much of it as he could but I had to fill in the gaps. Folta still away. Disturbing reports concerning Spanish Influenza. [?] quarantine orders – governing the landing of passengers, fumigation etc. At request of the negro population of Juneau, instructed the marshall to prohibit the showing of the film “Birth of a Nation”. Grateful lot of darkies. Issued proclamation for “Liberty Day”

Oct 12. Saturday

Liberty day and a holiday but Cramer and I worked all day on the report. We gave a little dinner at night – Judge and Mrs Jennings, Mr + Mrs Tory, Fenton + Mary, After dinner to the movies to see a thrilling war picture, I gave a four minute speech on the subject of the Liberty [tran?], next to a party for the submarine chaser boys and another speech. At the dance we had the drawing of the master numbers of the boys who became 21 during the year. Renée drew the first number which was 8. I drew the rest. At last home and to bed. Troy received a telegram stating that the Germans had accepted Wilson’s conditions for peace. None of us have much faith that any thing will come of it at present.

October 17 – Thursday -

My 45th birthday. Celebrated it by finally finishing my report and getting it in the mail to leave in the morning on the “Alaska”. Now come about a million letters and the [?] of the report for the Secretary’s report.

It at last looks as though the Germans were licked. Rumors which seem to be well substantiated are that the Kaiser has abdicated and taken his toys to Holland. Can it be that the war is really going to end?

I have taught “Bobs” a new trick. When I say “Would you like to bite the Kaiser?” he barks which means “yes.”

October 25 A howling snow storm. The Princess Sophia went on the rocks in a snow storm at Berner’s Bay day before yesterday with 258 passengers on board they are still there.

I have recently put the territory under quarantine and have appointed Dr Sloane Quarantine office. We are trying very hard to keep Spanish Influenza out of Alaska. We have about ten sailors in hospital here, one or two at Ketchikan, 11 at Nome, and one or two at Cordova but no lose cases.

The “Alaska” got on the rocks at Swanson Bay and is out of commission at Seattle so we have very few boats on the [?] and about 800 at Skagway trying to get away.

Cramer was going to get away on the Wickersham campaigning at Ketchikan and to the South. He seems to have laid off of me with his vile insinuations and abuse. Ed Russel is with him.

Russell is running for senator and has absolutely no sense of decency or morality.
His latest is to get out a libel on [Brill?]
who is also running for senator signing
it Secretary Alaska Defense Society.

Captain Finnegan moved out today as his offices got too cold. I have shut off his rooms and will have storm door etc put on so perhaps we will be able to exist through the winter.

Not very good news from home. Mother's mind seems to be gradually failing. I fear I shall never see her again.

Had a long talk with mayor Valentine today. All the old man needs is a little flattery and he comes around to your way of thinking.

No new war developments but Germans gradually getting the worst of it.

Had me on the witness stand today in a liquor case. Wanted me to identify the Burns man I had here making investigations.

Sulzer due here tomorrow on the "Northwestern".

Left Juneau on King + Winge at 5 a.m. Had breakfast at house before leaving. Picked up first body in Young Bay at 8 a.m. By 10 we had picked up 30. Other boats cruising around all picking up bodies, [Astakth, Monajhan?], Signal and a small gas boat. Hailed Signal at 9.30 he reported 19 bodies. All bodies unrecognizable on account of oil. All men so far and one boy of about 14.

Transferred to Cedar at 2 p.m. Capt [Dihell?] on board and capt [?] in command. They have [five?] bodies on shore. King and Winge returned to Juneau after putting me aboard as it is too rough to land boats.

Captain [Dihell?] is all broken up and shows the strain he has been under. He told me his story.

Oct 24

The Cedar arrived on the scene of the wreck at 8 p.m. the Sophia having gone on at 3.10 a.m. The Sophia was lying as though in a cradle on the highest point of the reef. A strong N W wind was blowing and waves were breaking on the reef and under the stern. He radioed and asked Capt [Locke?] if they should attempt to take off passengers. Capt Locke answered that the Sophia was perfectly safe and to wait until the weather moderated. The Sophia was not taking water and was seemingly [avidly?] fastened. There was no pain among the passengers. They stood by all until 10.30 (next day tried to anchor to the lea of the wreck but the anchors would not hold) At 8 p.m. the lights on the Sophia went out but Capt Locke said that the main steam [?] was broken and all was o.k. Capt Dihell then asked if he should stand by all night or go anchor. Capt L. answered to go anchor. The King + Winge also stood by.

Oct 25th the storm increased. Capt Locke did not wish to attempt to land passengers. In any boat it is hardly possible that many could have been saved at that time. He said to go to anchor. Steam was up again and light only. The King + Winge also took shelter and anchored about 4.50 p. m. message from Sophia that she was pounding badly and [trundering?] on the reef. Cedar immediately got under way but could not find the wreck. The storm was a gale and snow so thick that captain could not see the [?] of his boat.

Had to [?] to anchor.

At daylight on the 26th made way to wreck. The Sophia had been shifted entirely on the reef and nothing but the foremast showed. Immediately began to look for sign of survivors but saw nothing. Found raft with [five?] bodies but no sign of life. 261 passengers and 75 of crew gone.

[Diagram of boat and wreck with description]

Today I account for 99 bodies found probably 50 more have been piled up.

All bodies found have on life preservers and are floating in streaks of oil from this I deduce that when the ship went over she broke the oil tanks and at the same time the passengers were swept overboard. I do not think that the bodies came from the life boats.

It is only the life preservers which keep the bodies from sinking. We only picked up two men who were floating on their backs all were face down. Most of the faces are calm and quiet with eyes and mouth closed. A negro showed fear and one white man. These were terrible. The bodies are unrecognizable as all are covered with oil from head to foot. The first one to come on board affected me but later the sight made little impression there are too many of them. The King + Winge put one [?] [dories?] when [bodies?] were around. The fishermen would pick up two or three bodies and lay them in the sling nets we would then hoist them on board with the winch. At first we tried to lay them out separately but later had to cord them up. We picked up one officer and the Elainor transferred another.

After transferring to the Cedar, he picked up his [link?] and returned to the South side of Shelter Island as it was too stormy to land a boat. All the other small boats anchored near us.

I am confident that the King + Winge and the Cedar have done all that could have been done. It might have been possible to take off passengers on the 24th but capt Locke refused as everything seemed perfectly safe. If the attempt had been made there would probably have been loss of life.

Statement Mr Miller [?] operator.

Oct 25 – 4.50 p.m S.O.S call said ship pounding and water coming into his room. Calls my [?] because he was using his batteries. 5.20 last call saying to come quick. no more after that.

Up anchor at 4 a.m. went to [hight?] near [?] of Shelter Island. Capt Dihell and I landed. Sent off to Amy 5 bodies 4 women and one man. [B?] life raft on the back. I picked up a life ring of the Sophia. There were also some trunks. Walked along the beach to the north boat picked us up and carried us around point at head of island. [?] we ran into 10 dead, among them four little children- Ghostly – Poor little tots, another woman separate from the rest had ravens on her. There were 10 or 12 trunks on the beach. Had bodies all placed on the Amy with orders to return to Juneau. We kept on walking around the island about a mile down from the point on the East side in a little cove found another man of about 50 years. After that no more signs, Walked back to where the last man was found and one picked up by boat. “[Miniajhan?” arrived at 12 with Norton on board. Told him to make some reassignments of boats. [?aline] from [G?] saying that yesterday 160 bodies had been brought in. He had one body which I had transferred to the Amy making 16 and they were to pick up another from the beach making 17. Total we know of 177.

Asked Captain Leadbetter why he left wreck on the afternoon of Oct 25. Replied that he had [been?] up most of night and early morning and needed some rest. He asked Capt Locke if it was all right to anchor and Locke replied that it was. Made arrangements to call Sophia at 4.30. Was trying to get Sophia when S. O.S. call came at 5.10. Immediately started out but could not find his way even on returning he came in on his [?] about mile South of where he thought he was + It is doubtful if Capt Locke realized that he was in danger until high tide when [?] and water both were putting him on the reef.

that the Sophia was driven over the reef and sunk.

I started out on the King and Winge at 5. a.m. at 8 off Young Bay we found several gas boats picking up bodies. I was bound for the Cedar having radioed the Captain that I was on the way. We passed several bodies which the other boats would pick up but then running into so many of them I decided that we had better turn to also for fear that some might drift away or that the other little craft might not be able accommodate all the bodies. By 10 o'clock we had picked up 30.

From here on I simply ~~copy over~~ ~~my notes~~ put in the notes made while on the work.

The sight was pitiful particularly the poor little children.

I returned on the Cedar about 8.30 on the night of the 29th.

November 2nd

A key appreciation telegram today from Mr D. O. Coleman vice president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Mr [Cudahay?] their claim agent also expressed his appreciation. I went to the morgue today. All these poor silent bodies stretched out and the embalmers from all the towns working over the corpses. There are 179 recovered so far. I do not think there will be very many more found as the recent storms have scattered them far and wide.

Politics are now rife Wickersham on the night of the 30th attempted to pull a political meeting in defiance of the regulations against gatherings, but it was broken up by the Chief of Police.

They are a dirty lot. Sulzer passed through here on the Northwestern and will go to Ketchikan to stay until after election. I will be relieved when it is all over.

The influenza is making strides. 100 cases among the whites in Ketchikan and about the same number among the natives. The steamship Companies made the untrue charge that we were not allowing sick people to leave hospital attentions in Alaska and published a copy of a telegram they sent me with a lot of wild statements and accusations.

The war is all going our way now and I really think peace will be with us this year.

Peace!!!

Monday Nov 11th. This day the armistice was signed between the Allies and the Central powers. The military decision has gone against the [Hure?] and he is whining like any other whipped cur. While he was on top he laughed at any protest against cruelty and oppression, but now he wants every consideration shown his feelings. The news came in the morning. Owing to the influenza epidemic there could be no public gatherings but I had all the whistles blown and the bells rung. The small boys made lots of noise.

On the 5th were held the elections. Nothing decision yet but it looks as though Wickersham is elected. Awful thought. He is a crook of the [fish water?] and would be in jail if he had his just des[s]erts. And to think we may have to put up with him for another two years. Sulzer on the other hand is clean and honorable although not brilliant. I have never heard of such a mud slinging campaign.

The President got out a notice to the [?] of the U.S. that he hoped democrats would be returned to Congress as a [?] of support of his conduct of the war. I think this was a great mistake as it gave the Prepublicans a great opening and now that Congress is Republican he naturally has antagonized all of them.

I thought that when peace was declared that I was going to feel immensely elated, but strange to relate that I am looking at the troubles which are to come as labor and social unrest. It is going to be Hell here in Alaska when all restrictive measures are [?].

The influenza situation is Terrific. 300 cases and a dozen deaths at Kodiak and Seldovia and no doctor at either place. I wired Blue Surgeon General for doctors and he came right back with notice that he was sending doctors and supplies on the naval C[?] "B[?]". Pretty good work. 300 cases at Nome 11 deaths among whites and 100 among the natives.

Influenza somewhat better around Alaska. When the naval ship finally decides to get started everything will probably be all well. The “Admiral Watson” dropped off influenza at Yakutat so they have it badly there now. I finally got the tender “America” to go from Kodiak to Seward to get Captain Surgeon Palmer. She has been gone from there for days and has not showed up at Seward. Either put into some little bay on account of storm or foundered.

Dr [Krulish?] is at last at Ketchikan with his doctors and nurses but no more word from him.

Las night Lisette said to me when I [?] her “Her cut that out Dr Sloane says I am a good girl”.

Nothing new in the war. Germans are evacuating according to the terms of the armistice and looting as they go.

We (Sulzer, Jennings, Donahue + I) endorsed John W. [Troy?] for the job of collector of customs to take the place of John F. Pugh who was drowned in the wreck of the Princess Sophia.

Nov 25 – Monday-

Another telegram from Kate. I fear I shall be too late. Mother and [brother?] all within six months. Dear Mother was been slipping away faster than we thought. A hectic dat at the office. So many last things to attend to, and now the added trouble – Small pox at Seward. Three cases of passengers from the Northwestern. Will disasters never cease. Got on board the Spokate at 10 p.m. but she did not get away until early Tuesday morning about 5 a.m.

Dec 4th – Wednesday

at 10.30 a.m. $17.00 for the rooms and the damn rooms wouldn't cool off and we overloaded
the Illinois Central tracks where the trains were puffing all night. It costs money to travel these days.

Dec 5 Thursday

Got to Washington a little after nine.
Took taxi up house immediately. Kate met us downstairs. Father was sick in bed with the old bladder troubles. Talked with father for a while and then doctor came in and washed him out. After lunch Kate and [I] went first to Washington [?] and Trust to talk about mothers estate. There to Speare's where mother lay.
I saw her. She looked wonderfully beautiful.
A slight touch on her cheeks and a [?]
expression as though thinking thoughts of love.
She wore Renée's gift of a little lace cap,
lace gathered around her and on her rest
two orchids.

That night just at bed time Father had a bad chill. He [?] all us. Kate got hot water [bags?] and we placed them around him and before long he quieted down and went to sleep. I came down later and found Kate lying on the sofa

her to bed and staid there. I had to help

Renée developed a cold on the last day on the train – a bad one.

Dec 6 – Friday

Around the house most of the morning, then down town. To the Riggs [bank?] where I had a chat with Mr Glass who had not heard of mother's death. Then to the Trust Co and after having a morning [bowel?] put on my over coat went back to the undertakers. I took mother a couple of orchids and gave them to mother from Lisette and [Tomy?] Ada the maid says that T[Tomy?] was the last word she spoke. At one, I went to the cemetery and now all that is left of our mother on this earth is just a handful of ashes.

When I got back to the house Jack Bellings was there with Renée. He looked well in his uniform and very manly. He was most interesting. Spoke of all the fighting he had been in from Chateau Thierry to Verdun, of being gassed, of how insulting the English soldiers are to the Americans and how the American doughboys are not impressed by the arrogance of the Prussian captured officers. They jab with a bayonet if they don't get in line and when an officer is captured they fall over themselves stripping them of buttons, [?] crosses and everything else of value. I can imagine it all how the Prussian might try to impress a doughboy from Kansas or Alaska.

Father and Renée both up for supper although Father went to bed early.

December 13th – Friday

Renée and I got back from New York last night. We left here on Monday. I left Renée in New York. With mother's ashes I kept on to Albany where Jim Cox met me. I stopped at the [Jen Eyk?]. Early Tuesday Jim and I took the early morning train to Sidney. An auto from there to [G?]. Katharine Franke had made all arrangements for the [?] and we went directly to the cemetery to Grandfather Gilbert's lot. Mr Peters the episcopal clergy man read the services. Besides Kate and [?] [Franke?] there were Fitch Gilbert, Hamilton Harris + his wife. John Wright, Mary Thompson, Mrs [Brown?] and Mrs Peters. We laid the dear ashes on the north side of the monument. The day was beautiful. I tis a beautiful spot. After the service we went back to the Franke's for luncheon then back to Sidney for the 3.05 train then to Albany where I caught the Empire State limited and got to New York at 10.10. Renée had been stopping in the Danson's apartment. We went to the netherland for two nights and then back to Washington. While in N. Y. I tried to talk the board of Presbyterian missions into giving the territory the Sheldon Jackson museum at Sitka. I do nto yet know with what [?].

Today back to the office getting ready to really go to work. Tomorrow very busy day

[pg. 65]

Today the president landed in France with a wonderful reception. Something tells me that the fourteen terms of peace will be used as a basis for peace discussions only and that when the peace terms are really laid down that it will be found that the fourteen terms were simply a polite preface to the book. The British would stand for anything as long as war seemed indeterminate but now that Germany is absolutely beaten the English are going to demand everything which Germany can possibly give in the next hundred years.

December 25th Christmas Day.

I have been absolutely too busy to write anything. It has been a case of [men?] from department to office and back again.

I had a very interesting visit to Secretary Redfield who feels very badly about the wreck of the Sophia. All of his ships now are to be equipped with life saving apparatus. At Redfield's request I called on [Swager?] Shirley in the interest of Alaskan appropriations but failed to get a very sympathetic hearing: Shirley evidently dislikes Redfield intensely.

Advices from Alaska disclose the fact that the influenza has placed the territory in horrible shape. About 800 deaths in the vicinity of Nome alone. I have now nearly 150 orphan eskimo on my hands and no money with which to care for them.

I got Senator Jones of Wash to introduce a joint resolution in the Senate appropriating $200,000 for relief but up to date it is only as far as the committee. I hope for a hearing before long. It is useless to try to do anything in the House as the committee on Contests has reported to the house in [form?] of Wickersham and he will probably be seated early in January. It seems though that his tenure of office will be short lived as Sulzer leads now in the territory by 36 votes.

In an interview with Secretary Lane I got called down for not giving the Interior Department very full recognition in my speeches throughout the territory last summer. It seems that the secretary had one of my speeches taken down as well as one of Wick's, but then Lane seems to think that he should always put bug in a person's ear to keep him from getting too conceited. Lane is rather pessimistic about Alaskan affairs.

Renée and I attended the conference of the Governors at Annapolis and were most cordially received. Governor Herrington of Maryland was most cordial. In fact more so to us than to any of the others, being born in Maryland I think may have had something to do with it. I extended and invitation to the governors to meet in Alaska and it was agreed to do so. I spoke to Secretary Lane about getting a ship for them to rest on and he immediately called for Daniels. Daniels said "yes" we could have a ship. Now if 50% of the governors will join us going the Alaska trip will go through.

.....

The next thing was to get a permanent naval ship for Juneau to assist all governmental endeavors. I got Redfield and Lane to join in a joint letter to Daniels making the request. Admiral [Courtz?] our old friend from Alaska is now Acting Chief of the Bureau of Operation and promised his assistance. He took me out to see Daniels and explained how it might be done. Daniels was non committal but Courtz said it would go through.

I called at Surgeon-General Blue [?] influenza. His appropriation of $1,000,000 is exhausted as he cannot help Alaska, except in salaries of surgeons. The Red Cross appropriation is gone also. So we are up against it. However I got a lot of vouchers from Blue and am going to pass the buck to him as far as possible if I do not get Congressional relief.

The war Department has placed a car at my disposal as long as I am here which is a great help as I have a great deal of running around to do.

I called on [Provost?] Marshall Crowder and got a very nice compliment from him regarding the way we handled the draft in Alaska. He is going to print Finnegan's report in full.

.....

Dr Nelson of the Biological Survey and I have been locking horns on some of the regulations regarding game. I should have a draft of a report to the Secretary of Agriculture. He did not like it as being too critical of the department and said that he would not publish it unless amended. I told him that unless he published it that I would give publicity to the fact that he had suppressed it for fear of the criticism it would bring on his department. Sheldon is right with me on everything except brown bear. He insists that brown bear should be protected to bring sportsmen to Alaska who may become interested in the country.

On the whole my official actions have been productive of good results but I should have about two months here as speedy action is very hard to obtain.

Last night the kiddies had a little Christmas tree. My little cousin Freddie Haight whose father has rented our house 1731 21st St was the only other child. They had a beautiful time. Last night the kids hung up their stockings in Father's room and [?] night and early went down to see what Santa Claus had done for them. I have never seen so many [toys?].

Walter Lucherman has his fourth girl.
He wanted a boy very badly.

Father grieves continually our mother's loss. It is pitiful to see him sitting all day long in his big chair dozing away. He is kind and loving and hates to think of our going away. I doubt if he can stand it much longer. Kate is a wonder and is the main stay of the family. Mother's estate is not in good shape. The income from the Coal mines is discontinued and there is not enough from the rest to keep going. We help with an allowance of $200.00 per month starting Oct 1st.

Fred [Condu?] was down the other day. Renée and I dined with him. He was in France when the last drive started. Fock told him that the French were beaten. There were only 600,000 Frenchmen left in the line. The British had less. Then came our troops and turned the tide of battle. Clemenceau wrote out a message to the president in his own hand asking him to appeal to the French people to stand firm in case the Germans took Paris. Fred sent it to the president but was practically told to mind his own business and that all ammunitions must come through official channels. It seems as though Clemenceau does not trust our ambassador Sharpe.

[pg. 70]

George Griggsby our attorney general [has?] tried his tax case before the supremem court and I think has won it. I am told that he conducted it in a masterly manner. The taxing power of the territory practically hinges on this suit. Gruggsby is now trying to find some way by which I can stay in Washington a short time longer. I am really due in Juneau before January 15th to act as chairman of the [canvasing?] board.

Dec 28th

The excitement of the day was a trip in an airplane or rather two trips. [?] Clifford Moons (Tiny) an Alaskan aviator and formally one of my old [tomsdary?] boys made arrangements to take Sulzer, Griggsby and me up from Boling Field. We went out in my war department car. The colonel in command first sent me up in a big Haviland bombing plane equipped with liberty motors. [?] was the pilot. We were gone about 20 minutes and climbed to 7000 feet. We sailed out over Washington which looked like a toy map or picture puzzle. We climbed up through the clouds and got into the sunshine. It was wonderful. Tiny took up Sulzer and Griggsby. Then he wanted to take me up. So off we went. At 5000 feet without any warning he started to do stunts. Three loop the loops, [zumming?], side slips and spirals. It was a little too much for the first trip so when the motor was shut off I leaned over and said "Home James" and we finally came back to earth much to my comfort. Tiny thought it was all a huge joke. We came back to lunch at the capital and then I went to the Ford Administration to see a Mr Jon S[?] regarding dehydrating plants as I want to get the territory to put up such a plant so as to make our products marketable.

.....

Dec 29th

Today was spent in the War Department- [Adjutant?] General endeavoring to get Alaskans released from service, Chief of Engineers on road there public roads [?] and later the Forestry Service. I ran across young [Mahaffey?] in the Engineer office. He is now a colonel, also saw my old friend Harry Taylor now a Brigadier General. Talked a while with General Black the Chief of engineers and then took Mahaffey up to the Metropolitan Club for luncheon. Charley (Colonel) McKinny joined us. The most interesting person I have met in the military establishment is General Crowder the [provost?] marshal general. I think his work with the slection draft was splended. Griggsby says I do not have to get back to Juneau before January 31st so I will stay here and work off some of my errands.

January 11th 1919

It has been a pretty full month so far. Sulzer was unseated in Congress and Wickersham sworn in. Sulzer made a masterly defense and on [?] to recommit to the Committee the vote stood 187-130 with two members of the committee voting to recommit. When this [?] was lost of course the committee report went through 224-67. Sulzer and I sat in the gallery and saw Wick sworn in.

Senator Jones of Washington introduced a joint resolution for me for $200,000 for relief of influenza in Alaska. The committee cut it down to $100,000 in which manner it passed the [senate?]. I expected to be called by Shirley in the house at almost any minute.

Today Dr Hamilton of the Bureau of Education and I called at the Red Cross in the endeavor to get $20,000 from them. Wadsworth of War Council had turned me down cold. He has lands and cinemas in Alaska, I suppose. Todate I have about 450 children to take care of. At Cordova they are yelling for funds to maintain a quarantine against passengers going to Fairbanks. I authorized [Connire?] to go ahead the best he could

Yesterday afternoon I went up to New York to a dinner of the Boone and Crockett Club. Mather the director of the Park Service joined me. Secretary Lane was also on board on his way to the [Americanizations?] dinner. Had a nice talk with the secretary. The men at the club treated me with great consideration and even Madison Grant who has been opposing me told me he would help me on game laws.

Changed clothes at Fred C[redert?]'s. Fred Alice and Alexis all from the. Fred could only talk in a whisper. Back on the midnight

Renée and I were in Senator Jones office the other day when in walked John Ballaiuse. He tried to greet me like a long lost brother but I refused to shake hands with him.

Called on old Judge Hustin chairman of the Committee on territories and had a nice chat with him. Also senator Chamberlain who is very much worried about his son George who is reported to have become a dope fiend.

Today a luncheon at the Metropolitan Club in honor of Steffanson the arctic explorer. General Greeley was most complimentary about my report.

As 4 an engagement with Rossiter of the shipping board and Praeger the 2nd [?]'t P. M. General in an endeavor to untangle the chaotic mail condition in Alaska.

Picked up Renée and Lisette at the Swedish minister's and brought them home. Ekengren was as polite as ever but he is [?] through and through. He complained to me of the attitude of Alaska in endeavoring to get aid of the Swede [?] – said "Why you need the labor". "Yes" said I "but we do not want [?] labor".

[pg. 74]

Jan 27th – Monday

Quite a time now since I have had the opportunity to write anything in this little old book, briefly:-

Left Washington Jan 17th and took Renée and the children to [Morstown lunchMmorrestown?] N.J.

18th – Left for the West

19th – Staid our one night in Chicago

20 – Came West with Sulzer from Chicago arriving in Seattle on the 24th

26th Left Seattle 9 a.m on Alameda

Before leaving Washington I was called before the House Committee on appropriation and gave testimony in regard to the influenza situation in Alaska. Mr Sissons was chairman of a sub-committee. He was cordial but not particularly enthusiastic about taking care of our Esquimeau in a territory whose delegate has no vote in Congress. In fact even the loss of the Princess Sophia with 343 persons on board did not seem to interest Shirley. He asked me how many people we had in Alaska and when I told him said "Hell, we have more people than that in one of my [wards?] in Toniville." I am glad that he is defeated even though he is a democrat. The Red Cross was rather loath too to afford us any relief. No [brass band shiff?]. I told Secretary Lane who immediately got Wadsworth on the telephone and said "See here Wadsworth old man you have got to come through with this money, these are our own people." If it had not been for Lane we would not have gotten it.

.....

In Seattle I called on Chas. D. Stimpson who is district manager for the Red Cross who evidently also wanted to put me off. Raised all sorts of difficulties but finally compromised by letting the Behrends Bank act as disbursing agent. Stimpson finally said "We'll let you have it but you must give us all the credit you can." This is just the attitude of all the "[?]". They do not want to do anything which does not advertise the individual, and a dying esquimo means little unless the individual is recognized as a public benefactor – with other peoples' money.

On the train from New York to Chicago I ran into Secretary Huston of the [Ag?] I talked to him for an hour about Alaska and managed to get a little show of interest particularly in regard to stocking Alaska with musk oxen. I really think we will be able to pull off something constructive along these lines.

A great strike among the ship yards is on in Seattle and Tacoma approximately 50,000 men are out. A minority of 10% Rads are bluffing the other 90%. This ship is crowded with returning laborers of the better element. One man Jack Heath from Fairbanks says that the whole labor situation is one vast graft. For instance when he went to work the foreman came to him and said "What in H – L do you mean by working like that slow up, slow up." For three days the foreman kept him in the hold of a ship doing nothing but smoke cigarettes but drawing his pay. Another time he finished a job too soon and the foreman made him tear out the whole job. He is disgusted. Burns from Nenana is another. They all seem to thing however that the ship builders are conniving with the labor learders to make the construction as expensive as possible as they are paid 10% on the cost for their share and naturally if a ship costs a great deal their profits are larger.

Sulzer and I share the same room. At the table are Mr + Mrs Jack Hellenthal. Captain Parks, a Mrs McKenzie, Sulzer and self. Quite a pleasant party.

I was in Tacoma Saturday. The commercial Club gave me a luncheon. Governor [Lister?] came over from Olympia. At night Charlie Henley gave a little dinner of some of my old friends. It was very pleasant.

Jan 29 –

Arrived home at 6 P.m. We had a fierce storm last night and could not go out past Cape Decision so turned back at day break and came through Wrangell Narrows.

Jan 30 –

Mighty lonely here without the family. "Bobs" nearly ate me up at the dock last nght. A lot of trouble at the office. Commissioner Burton threw us all down I find by only giving a man $200.00 who had a well established stile and about 90 gal. of hootch all ready for the market.

[pg. 77]

Called a preliminary meeting of the canvassing board, made plans for counting votes and continued until Feb 5th at 10. a.m.

The House of representatives turned down the Jones resolution appropriating $100,000.00 for relief in Alaska on account of influenza.

[?] cause from Stimpson that the Red Cross had allotted $25,000.00 but it is as hedged in with restrictions that I doubt if it will do us any good.

The money must not be used for any authorization given but only for future destitution, all vouchers must be approved by local chapter, then by Hawksworth of the Bureau of Education and myself an dfinally B. M. Behrends may pay it. Damn such an organization.

If the officials of the organization can get themselves in the limelight all well and good but they do not want to give to an obscure community of suffering Esquimo and dying children.

All the red cross people want is a little self glorification on other peoples' money. Alaska stands first in Red Cross work of all the states and territories and now they do not want to give us a portion of what we turned in to them cheerfully and willingly. I am strongly tempted to tell them all to Go to Hell.

Held 2nd meeting of canvassing board. The first one being held merely for the purpose of organizing. Today started the canvas of votes of the last election. John Rustgaard and John Marshall elected themselves guardians of the rights of Wickersham and wrote what I consider an insulting letter to the board regarding the method the board should follow in counting ballots – Practically said “We hope you are going to curb your natural instincts and give Wickersham a ~~crooked~~ square deal”. I called them down in open meeting for their attitude. We adjourned at 12 for the day as Folta our stenographer became the father of a fine 8 ½ lb baby boy yesterday.

Col Lenoir the head of the Alaska telegraph system is stopping with me while waiting for a steamer south.

Feb 8 –

Working on the canvassing board. Little change in the net result. This afternoon at 4.30 a long conference with the chief Indians of Angoon. I think the idea was merely to make a social call, but their excuse was the asking of a “skookum paper” or letter commending them for incorporating an Indian village and acting under authority granted them by the legislature in enforcing progressive ordnances. The “Judge” stopped after the conference and gave me a brief listing of their laws. Wife beating and the [hering?] of bear seem to be their besetting sins. They toted their old tribal chief along – Andanaot – who made the usual [roundabout?] Indian speech. The judge Eli Katanook is very intelligent, in fact all of them are superior natives.

[pg.81]

Tom Donahor in town after the scalp of Shoup and Smith. I guess he will get Shoup as he put Harry Norton up to getting after the job and there is no doubt but that Norton is a good man and I think honest.

Feb 21st Friday.

The canvassing board is to meet again today after a short but stormy season on Wednesday. The attorney general gave in his opinion that the boards activities were confined to checking up the returns of the judges of election. Davidson who is secretly against Sulzer made a great war and wanted two days in which to digest the opinion. In other words he wants time to consult Rustgard and Marshall who owe Wickersham's attorneys. To date Wick is three votes gainer on account of action taken by the board in the matter of counting votes rejected by the judges. R. + M. have protested Forty Mile and a number of other Sulzer precincts while Hellenthal and Winn have protested a number of Wickersham precincts. It is all a good scramble.

Old [?] who wants to be chief of the Tlinkets in place of Anakla hash is annoying every one by trying to pull off a potlatch in defiance of the quarantine order against native gatherings. I had to issue orders for his arrest if he started anything. A U. of Plnna. native came down from Haines to see me and explained that Moses having made his boast of giving a potlatch is now bound by tribal law to come through.

bart Thane dined with me last night and we talked on interesting subjects unil about eleven.

March 2 – Sunday –

Tomorrow the legislature will meet and there the four will commence. The [?] “Democratic” delegation is going to try to throw all the monkey wrenches they can into the machinery. They are absolutely dominated by Wickersham and his henchman Russell. Owing to the quarantine all the 2nd dir. returns are not yet in but we have given the legislators their certificate of elections on telegraphic advice from the clerk of the court. In the 3rd we did the same think except that Murray and Patterson are running so closely that we do not dare with the Bristol Bay precincts still out. Patterson is 8 votes ahead but that can be wiped out from the missing returns.

It now looks as though Sulzer will be elected by the narrow plurality of 13 votes which is too close for comfort when it is taken into consideration that Wickersham is undoubtedly going to contest the election. His attorneys are watching all the proceedings like hawks while Sulzer men are conspicuous by their absence.

The "Princess Sophia" hearings were held here last week and I entertained Justice Morrison at the house. He is a most agreeable and cultivated man. I have two dinners for him. At one I only had in the two Hellenthals and Judge Winn but at the second I invited all the visitors and an own officials. Course for 14.

Renée should be in Vancouver today. Lots of calls from the various legislators. John [?] being the only one in town who has not shown up. Bart Thane has been in several times and dined once with me. I like him. He thinks my Bureau of mines idea is all right. I hope it goes through although we are terribly cramped for funds.

At a meeting of the board of Trustees of the Pioneers' Home yesterday it was decided to replace Shoup with Harry Morton. The move is political only. Shoup is doing as well as anyone but he is most distasteful to the party and will have to go.

March 3th

Great excitement. Legislative c[?] Senate two members shy – Ronau and Sutherland. House elected E. J. (Stroller) White Speaker and Harry Morton clerk.

Harry Morton has been after the job of superintendant of the Pioneers' Home and also wanted to be clerk of the house. I got wind of the fact that Marshall was after the clerkship so I immediately called a meeting of the board of the Home and we accepted Morton's application and then to bump Marshall seat him after the clerkship. He got it.

It looks as though Frawley from Nome would get the presidency of the senate which would be a great mistake. We wanted Ronan but he can't get here before the end of the week.

March 4th –

Senate and House sent committees to notify me of their organization. Sent my first message stating that I would deliver my message to a joint session on Wednesday the 5th at 2. p.m.

March 5

Delivered my message at 2. p.m. Big crowd. It seemed to go pretty well. I got quite a number of compliments for pointing out needed legislation specifically instead of in a general way. Sutherland, my enemy, made a motion thanking me for coming and drawing attention to the clear message.

[pg.85]

March 6th

Gave a dinner to the legislature. All there except Ronan who was delayed in Seattle. Had some fake telegrams come in for each member but they didn't seem to grasp the point very well. In fact most of them are rather lacking in humor. I did not hear one single light remark during the whole dinner. After dinner Phil Bradley came over from Douglas and operated his little movie machine on my films and slides. This seemed to interest the law makers a little more. The smartest men in the crowd are Jim Daly from Nome and Ernest Collins from Fox, the latter a republican. Daly is a Wickersham man and in consequence only nominally a democrat, between them they are pulling the wool over the eyes of the all the rest. The House woke up to the fact finally that the non tax paying divisions had four men on the Ways and Means, the republicans a majority on the Printing and the Fisheries. Poor old "Stroller" White finally comes too after the damage is all done.

Congress of the United States finally broke up in a [?] without passing the Deficiency bill and the Sunday Civil bill. My influenza bill is in the deficiency bill.

[pg.86]

March 8th –

Just a few legislation calls today. "Bobs" seems like a very sick dog. I suspect that someone he has been barking at has fed him a little poison. Newspaper tonight mentions the fact that J. K. McPherson of the Alaska Bureau is assisting Secy Laue on Alaska Railroad matters owing to the illness of Mr Edes. I got a wire today from Edes stating that he would give transportation to our engineers so I expect that they have finally gotten the old man. However if they are going to put Mack in they are only jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. He would make a better [balloon?].

March 9

The "Princess Mary" arrived at 2 a.m. Went to dock with auto and went on board with customs officer. Renée up and Emma dressing kiddies. Went ashore in about half an hour and home again. All hands glad to be reunited. Babies rather apathetic about seeing their father but friendly.

March 19 –

Lisette has been sick for about four days with a low fever. Doctor says stomach and the poor little tot has been fed castor oil and anything else disagreeable until there is a hollow where her stomach ought to be. Renée is very much worried.

Last night we had the reception for the Legislature. It was quite successful.

even the Bolshoviki seemed to have a good time. Dan Sutherland staid until the very last. We gave them lots to eat and had good music for dancing. In the den there were smokes and the men made the best of it.

Today we canvassed the Bristol Bay precincts. [Naknek?] had no official ballots and voted the priary democratic workers ballots straight. [Chugging?] had unofficial ballots also.

Long call from Senator Hess, who wants to introduce a banking law to protect all depositors. It may be all right. Snowing hard today after the days of clear weather.

March 22 –

Today signed my first bill making it a law. It was merely to advance the payment of school experts from March 31st to June 30th so as to cover the school year. Lisette better with almost normal temperature.

March 25th

More influenza. This time it is at Skagway. On the 23rd it broke out with 40 cases yesterday 50 cases and one death. The only doctor in town is down with it. I sent Dr Johnson from Sitka who has just been released from the Army up there with two nurses and the next day sent two more. I put the whole matter up to the legislature and told them I would not assume any more authority single handed as the strain was too great. They promptly told me to go ahead and do the best I can and gave me a thousand dollars with which to do it. So far [the] Republican Bolsheviki have been pretty decent but I am told that Dan Sutherland is going to turn loose on me tomorrow on account of the Publicity Bureau. Lisette's temperature has been normal all day today so I think she will probably now be all right. Now upstairs and get dressed for a damned card party.

.....

March 31st –

The whole country is talking of Wickersham's open letter to Secretary Lane in which he abuses Lane and me unmercifully on account of alleged railroad mismanagement. Like the cur that he is he accuses Renée of voting illegally. She is wild and wants to bring a suit against him for libel. Wickersham's letter is one of the greatest tissue of absolute lies I have ever read. So far it has worked against him and hurt him greatly. Neither has his attack on me seemed to help him very much. He is now in town. I suppose to see what he can do in the way of a contest in case Sulzer gets the certificate of election.

The other legislators urging a $5,000,000 bond issue for this purpose of taking over the transportation of the territory so that we may have decent [roads? rails?] and schedules.

I have also written a letter to Senator Price showing how I have been working on the scheme since last November. It is Price who introduced the bill to carry the measure with effect. My message went in on the 26th.

On the 27th, Sutherland read certain telegrams on political subjects which I had sent and paid for out of the emergency fund. I had been paying for all office contingent expenses out of the emergency fund since the federal fund played out. Cramer should have picked them up in preparing the vouchers but he slipped a cog. It is fine campaign material for the Wicks.

Sutherland is senator for the 4th Division but has not been there for two years and a half but draws his [milage?] just the same with great regularity, so just to get even I slipped a letter to the chairman of the finance committee asking the senate to certify to me that the various mileage charges should be paid. There will be something stirring before long.

April 2nd

Today Renée's day at home. [?] Wickites in to call. My day was made up of Road bill conference, Banking Board and school board. Thank Heaven the Legislature is half over. I will be thankful when they pack their grips and depart for home. Today Scotty Allen and Borgan broke away from the Bolshiviki machine led by Collins and Daly and voted with the regulars on the Publicity Bureau bill which had been introduced by Sutherland to abolish the Bureau. Scotty seems to have come over to my side as does old Senator Sundback.

[pg.90]

Yesterday was city election. The Valentine gang were fefeated. The new administration has some pretty good men on it and I hope will run the city efficiently. Renée did not really want to vote as Wick's charges against her of illegal voting seems to have gotten her goat.

April 13 – Palm Sunday.

The great excitement of the legislature now is my shipping measure. I think it will pass and we will either do the Territory a great deal of good or go broke. Last night the democrats tried to hold a get together meeting at Casey's house and I was invited but of course Daly was there and I was silenced as anything I might say would of course go right to the enemy. There has also been a great deal of excitement in regard to the retention of Shoup as Superintendent of the Pioneers' Home. The Board had determined to replace Shoup with Harry Morton for political reasons. This came to Shoup's ears. He came to my office and said that the Legislature wanted to put a resolution through asking the board to retain him and asked me if I had any objections. I told him I had no objection and thought of course the Legislature would turn him down, but strange to relate it passed the House and is now in the Senate. I reappointed Smith to the treasurership which has also caused a howl in certain quarters.

Chin the Cook leaves today to start a Chinese restaurant in Seattle. Mr Dole of the Eng. Com. has secured us a good cook at sixty five per but she cannot get here for a week or two so emma is to do the cooking ad interim and Renée will wear herself out with the kiddies.

After much debate the governors have decided that they cannot hold their annual conference in Alaska. Only 18 could be found to consent so it will be held this year in Salt Lake and next year in Alaska.

Naval patrol in port the "V[?]" and two such chasers. I returned the call of the commanding officer and received my salute of seventeen guns. I felt quite important. I took Cap't Finnegan representing my staff and invited Mayor Waugh officers of the Alaska Road Commission and the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. They are to patrol Alaskan waters. Their orders are "Until the close of navigation"

Funny how little is known of Alaska even in official circles.

My old engineer F. D. Hayden, now an engineering instructor at the University of Washington has come out in a long letter to the Seattle P. [?]. under date of April 7th denying all of Wickersham's charges. Pretty good letter too.

April 15th –

[Nome?] returns in at last. They had gone to Seattle and then North on the Jefferson. Called meeting of Canvassing board for tomorrow. [Joslin?] in town. Hearing of transportation Committee. [Joslin?] and Carl Strong of Ketchikan before committee. Neither seemed to favor the project on account of tendency to scare away capital although both admitted that the rates were too high and that another competing line might make money. They received a telegram from Fox the commissioner at Craig stating that Delegate Sulzer is very ill. Wired Sulzer to come here and that I would send patrol boat after him.

April 16 –

[Wisless?] called me up at 2. a.m. Message from Ketchikan that Sulzer had died en route from Sulzer to Ketchikan as a result of obstruction of the bowels. Canvassing board met at 10 a.m. and canvased Nome returns showing Sulzer to have been elected by 33 votes. Awaiting instructions from atty-general as to what to do next. Wrote proclamation regards placing of all flags at half mast for three days. Everyone shocked by news of Sulzer's death. I was very fond of him. He was a clean manly man. I wired Mrs Sulzer our deep distress.

Jennings, Troy, Griggsby, Stroller White and I met at the house in the evening to determine the best way to handle the delegate vacancy. We picked on Griggsby to sacrifice himself. Jennings was rather stubborn about wanting his way in getting some of the legislators to wire Burns the territories committeeman to hold a [compensation?] here in Juneau and appoint the democratic legislators as proxies. I held out for having Dasohor have Burns call the convention so that it would all come from that end. I carried the day. So I framed up a wire to Donohor which was to be signed by the "Empire". My name was suggested to run but I declined on account of having to face a contest which Griggsby would be much better fitted to conduct. It seems that there are other Richmonds in the field. Mainly Judge Bunnell. I now propose to give Sulzer the certificate of election so that Mrs Sulzer can get his salary and call an election 30 days from May 3rd.

April 20th Sunday – Easter

Very tired. Yesterday I delivered an eulogy on Chas. A. Sulzer before the Senate and House. It seemed to be well received.

.....

Donohor came over from Valdez and last night a few met here to discuss plans. Griggsby is our pick of candidate. I positively do not want it. To go through the mire of an Alaskan political campaign does not appeal to me. Wickersham is also in town as full of venom as ever. His attack on Secretary Lane has hurt him immensely.

Dr Sloane came in and gave me the once over. My right side has been hurting me for a week or ten days. Of course Renée thought I was headed right in Sulzer's direction. Sloane found my blood pressure all right 130. Heart regular and lungs sound as a top. So it came down to the two ribs I fractured from years ago.

In the mail today is an interesting souvenir of the war. A piece of German shrapnel hammered out as a german forge in the Arg[?] by one of our Alaska boys into a paper cutter. We who staid home will never know the Hell these men went through. The donor is Private Crowe of the 27th Eugenecis.

I am getting the Victory [tran?] drive started and hope that we can raise our quota.

April 27 – Sunday

Still tired. No cook yet and Renée in bed with inflammatory rheumatism. the poor girl has had it for nearly a week now and is about worn out.

Politically the situation is anything but satisfactory. Sulzer's death makes it necessary to call a special election and as yet we have no strong candidate. I have been asked to run but do not want it. Griggsby is my choice as he will undoubtedly run into a contest with Wickersham and he is best fitted to conduct the contest. Senator Hess is spoken of and every member of the Legislature is secretly hoping that the delegate mantle will fall on his shoulders. They all have dim visions of themselves making speeches to crowded halls of Congress. I propose to call an election for June 3rd at present and of course there is an awful howl from those who want to[?] the whole thing. My editor friend in Fairbanks W. F. Thompson is particularly bitter and calls me "Proclamation Tom".

.....

[pg. 95]

I dropped into the legislature this morning and talked like a Dutch mule to some of the legislators. Told them that they had treated me rottenly and that they were doing every thing possible to handicap my office by cutting down the appropriation for its support.

Tom Donahoe is here and seems my friendly [enu?] if I did reappoint Smith to Territorial Treasurer. However I know that he does not approve of me as a party man.

Thank the Lord the Legislature will be over in a few days.

.....

[Pg. 96]

April 3rd Saturday

At last the legislature is over. Of course they did not get through with any of the important bills until the last moment. I staid up until ~~the very last~~ about 5.30 a.m and signed the revenue bills and as they were still scrapping I turned in for a few hours and got back about 9. Adjournment was at 12. I signed the transportation bill before turning in. When I got back there was an absolute dead lock on the appropriations for the Agricultural College and School of Mines and the Publicity Bureau. I asked White if he could hold his men pat and he said he could. I then went up to the Senate and told the conference committee that the House was very obstinate and absolutely refused to budge. Price and Britt weakened but Heckman said he would hold out. I told Heckman that I had shown him a great deal of courtesy and I expected him to show me some. The committee was called together again and some came down and offered a compromise. Collins who had traded the College for the Bureau refused the offer. The free conference accepted the Bureau appropriation and then went back to the College. It failed of passage, but the Bureau was saved although only with $15,000.

Yesterday was also [?] day. Griggsby was nominated on the first ballot [Noon?] and Hess receiving complimentary votes.

[pg. 97]

Donohue ran the convention very nicely and created a good deal of good feeling. He put Pennington in the chair and had Price make the nominating speech. It is now anything to get rid of Wickersham. Last night I went to bed at nine and slept through to eight.

A new nurse on the scene Emma in the kitchen. The nurse is a teacher out of a job and a very nice girl.

Renée better.

I was idly marking on a piece of paper a short time ago in a sleepy way and wrote down a date December 16-1942. Then it suddenly flashed into my mind "why that is the date of my death." It will be interesting to my descendants if they ever read this chronicle to see if my hunch comes true.

May 6th

Rotten bad cold. Staid in the house almost all day, except a short time this morning when I went to the office for the purpose of calling a meeting of the shipping board. We agreed to [leave?] [Maurice Leeky?] for a short time anyhow to look into the matter in Seattle. Great excitement in anti administratioin circles because I vetoed the au[?] bill. Tony Nordale came around to the house in the afternoon to try to talk me out of some money from the emergency fund for insurance etc for the Agricultural College and School of Mines. I told him that I would have been glad to do so but for the attack that Hess made on me for expenditures from the fund on account of the Hatchery in Juneau. I told him to present the facts to the regents which he romised to do. I can see Mrs Hess pulling her husbands hair as she is a very active member of the board. Frawley of Nome is going direct to Washington to prefer charges against me.

[pg. 98]

May 11th –

At a meeting of the shipping board we retained Maurice Leeky of Alaska and Seattle to represent us before the Shipping Board in Washington. It is our intention to try remedial action on rates before taking any steps towards starting a territorial steamship line.

Griggsby away campaigning. He wired me from Petersburg to send him the votes list. I hear he has track of gross inequalities in voting. We have got to get all the evidence we can as Wick is going to contest the Soldier vote.

I appointed Dr [?]. O. S[trane?] temporary Commissioner of Health so as to recover any hope from the breast of Dr DeVigue. Mrs Smith the wife of the treasurer has been trying to force the DeVigne down our throats. Mrs Smith cannot be trusted out of sight. She has been very active trying to get a most permissions bill through the legislature allowing the employer of any company to chose his own doctor at company expense all in the interest of her beloved DeVigne.

[pg. 99]

May 24 – Saturday

Just returned from an eight day drip to Windfall Harbor on Admiralty Island where we went after bear but were to early as none of the bear seem to have left their dens. It was a queer mixture that went along. I commandeered the liquor agent Jack McDonald and his boat and asked Cheney to go along. Then Rustgaard [leaned?] in and wanted to go so I took him. Cheney is a sore democrat and Rustgaard is a confirmed Wickershamite and even his attorney. We dropped politics almost entirely. Windfall Harbor is one of the most beautiful spots I have ever seen, about half way up Seymour Canal. We camped at Bert Maycock's cabin on Windfall Island and made trips out from there. Maycock and his partner did not get back from Juneau until the day before we left so we had things all our own way. We did not even see a bear back but we had a beautiful [?] and I was mighty glad to be away from the office. To tell the truth I was pretty [seedy?] and needed a change badly. The only excitement we had was returning from the G[?] Penninsula where we went to boat one day. A storm came up and the waves were pretty bad for our little craft.

[pg.100]

The dory broke away just off Bug Island reef and I turned back to get her. We fished her in but in slowing down the engine I stalled her and it took a long while to get it started again. In the mean while we were drifting over the reef. We rigged the sail but the boat answered the helm very [?] so it was a great relief when the engine started again.

Got home yesterday about 7.30 after a [?] hour [?] and found the boy quite sick with a high fever. Stomach again. Renée with a tooth ache. It is a very poor day nowadays when some one in the house can't be sick. to day L[?] better and I forced Renée to the dentist. He will treat the tooth for a time and if that fails pull it.

June 2 – Monday

Had a letter from John Ronan on Saturday stating that the new [?] camp at Portland Canal is a wonder. 450 tons shipped from the Bush mine brought $272,000. I had agreed with Ronan before he left here for Stewart that if he struck anything good that I could get the capital. I immediately sent him $100.00 and wired Fred [Conder?] that I thought there was a good opportunity and would need $100,000 and probably $25,000 soon to tie up options. Today a wire "Semple and I will honor drafts authorized by you for #25,000 and undertake to supply balance of capital when needed, send me preliminary reports as soon as available". I then wired Ronan "Arranged for necessary capital if prospects will stand investigation." Renée is much excited. I have told Ronan if necessary to draw on me for $500.00.

Dan Sutherland the Bolsheviki Senator is much worried. He represents the 4th Div but hasn't been there for two years. He drew his mileage just the same but because the Empire roasted him he asked for a [ruling?]. I made a request on the Comptroller who turned him down. Now he wants another ruling. He is the man who attacked me for spending $3.81 of territorial funds on political telegrams. He is now advertising in the Dispatch a series of articles exposing the Democratic machine. We have sweet politics in Alaska.

June 3rd Tuesday

Today election day to fill the vacancy made by the death of Delegate Chas. A. Sulzer. Renée, Emma and I voted after luncheon.

Stormy meeting this a.m. of the Board of Road Commissions. Secretary Dandson is a regular bull in a china shop. Mayor Waugh of the Alaska Road Commission nearly took his boys and went home. D. was almost insulting. What we are trying to do is to get as many roads as possible out of the various [ponds?] as possible and Waugh and I had practically arranged for certain proportions. The Secretary certainly made a grave mistake when he reappointed Dandson Surveyor-General.

[pg. 102]

June 5th –

The daily disaster consisted of a tumble of Lisette from a stool in Behrend's store. Result ear ache and temperature of 101. Job and his toils had nothing on us.

Griggsby back from the West and laid up in the hospital with a carbuncle. Election returns show him to be safely elected over the labor candidate Jones.

Wickersham tried some more of his underhand tricks in Valdez. Wrote Capt Faust that out of respect for Sulzer he did not want to make a scandal and asked him to instruct the soldiers under him to quietly make [affidant?] that [the?] had voted for Sulzer so that he could be seated without a contest. He can think of more underhand tricks than any man I have ever heard of.

Had a talk with Jim Connors re his Red Top mine in the [Stacart?] district. It sounds good to me and I [?] take a flyer on it. Fred [Condert?] and I may own a mine the first thing we know. Fred Bradley of the Treadwell is going to make an examination of it. I want to get there first.

June 15th

The canvassing board has met and Griggsby was given the certificate of election. He is now on his way to Washington.

The Fish Commission has met and we are going to have a little experimental hatchery and to do some stream cleaning work.

[pg. 103]

The family disasters are that Renée badly cut her hand in retrieving my razor from Buddy so that her little right hand finger will probably be stiff. It started to show a little chance of getting normal and then she made a grab at him and broke the rest of the tendons. Lisette in playing with Buddy on the old Russian cannon by the office fell off the [?] and sprained her arm badly. The doctor simply lives at the house.

I have been after bear again with the same result, so I sat down and wrote a bear hunting article which will make people think I am the original [Nimsord?] when they read "all Outdoors".

June 25th

Last Thursday Rustgaard came in and delivered a letter at the instance of Wickersham asking for certain information from the canvassing board. At first I saw nothing particular in them and said I would call a meeting of the board for their consideration but then it struck me that Wick was trying to get a statement before Congress supported by what he would claim to be a "confession" from the board and then prevent Griggsby from being seated. Griggsby was due in Washington on Tuesday. So I was suddenly seized with the desire of getting a bear before the end of the season. So Folta and I got out that afternoon on the game warden's launch and the funny part of it all is that I got a bear. We went to Port Frederick, arriving there about 1.30 p.m. the next day. At the head of the bay we saw two bear on the beach. Folter and I made a sneak on them but we found that one had crossed a little [light?] and was only about 100 yards away. We got within 100 yards and then I shot him. He ran up the beach and into the woods. We tracked him by blood and at a little opening I shot him again. Filta also shot. About a 100 yards further on Folta shot him again but he was all in, + I claimed him. A nice fair sized grizzly. On the way back we stopped in at Hoonah and I brought home some fine baskets.

I tried to call a meeting of the canvassing board today and had told L[?] to be too busy to come but it was not necessary as Davidson was out fishing. I am trying to stave off giving Rustgaard any information until Griggsby is seated.

Lisette [evidently?] hurt her arm pretty badly so she cannot straighten it yet.

June 28th

The allied powers and Germans signed the peace treaty today about 3 p.m. Now comes the ratification of the terms by the separate governments.

A [?] and Mrs Hamilton are here today. Mrs Hamilton was in a convent school at R[?] at the outbreak of the war and was rescued by her husband from some [?]. Her sister was shot by a German officer. All of her family, mother, two brothers and [from?] sisters have disappeared.

[pg. 105]

June 29th

Wickersham brief in the contest out in the Dispatch today. A horrible bunch of [Callousness?] and lies. He pays particular attention to me as chairman of the canvassing board.

July 7th –

Renée and I went to Wrangell for the 4th. We went down on the Fisheries boat the Murre and were very comfortable. Arrived at Wrangell at 11.30 a.m after a 20 hour run from Juneau. Quite a committee to meet us with the Indian board. This was the 3rd That night a ball at Red man's Hall, next day of course it rained so the open air exercises had to be abandoned. The speaking was in the play shed. I made the address of the day and lit into Bolshevikian and [I. W. W.?] In the afternoon a ball game between Petersburg and Wrangell which only lasted 8 ½ innings and then it rained. I pitched the first ball. Score 2-1 in favor of Petersburg.

A telegram from Judge Winn while at W. asking for help at Little Port Walter. I. W. W. have chased off the superintendent and bookkeeper. At Big Port Walter the I. W. W. tried to shoot the fish buyer. The only patrol boat in S. E. Alaska laid up for repairs. At Port Althrop the cannery is nearly out of business because the pirates are [?] all the traps. The Diana seems to be the pirate par excellence. The other night a regular battle with the pirates more than 200 shots being fired. On the 28th of June I wired the Secretary for more boats and authority to appoint deputies but no answer as yet. Wired again yesterday. Unless something is done soon there are liable to be riots and bloodshed.

[pg. 106]

Griggsby is seated as delegate. Congress made no move to take up Wickersham's resolution and he was unanimously seated on the certificate. Wickersham charges every office holder in Alaska with being crooked. How that man loves me.

July 24 –

Fred Condit and Alys arrived for the 20th and have been enjoying themselves largely. Yesterday we went to Taku glacier on the yacht of David Whitcomb of Seattle. Today they go through the Gastineau Mine. Yesterday we all went down to Taku glacier on David Whitcomb's yacht the Missawit. The day was a little overcast but beautiful. Tonight we had the Whitecomb and Tom Andrew from the Vicksburg to dinner.

[Pg. 107]

July 27 –

Wild excitement day before yesterday on account of a wire from John Ronan at Stewart saying that he could get a very good bunch of claims for $6000.00 cash. I wired to go ahead if they met with his approval. Nothing more from him so far. Fred said up with bad cold. I went fishing in the Salmon Creek dam with Thane, Willis and Jackson. Caught all the trout we wanted.

Five fish pirates now in jail. the Defense is that there is a conspiracy of packers to drive the honest fisherman away from the seining grounds.

Griggsby won second heat over Wickersham where Wick had a resolution introduced to put off the taking of evidence so as to put Griggsby into the middle of winter to take his.

July 31 –

Great excitement today. Wire from Ronan that he had closed on the mines and was checking against his account for $6,500. Fred immediately went to bank and deposited the amount. Then I made arrangements to get the “[Duxie?]” and proceeded to the scene of the trouble. Fred gives me all the time I want and declares Semple in on the deal. I am safe to take the matter up as the mine is in B.C. Jim cox and hide around here on 29th. She is a nice pretty little thing.

I sent them through the Alaska Juneau mine yesterday and today to the Mendenhall glacier.

A ball at the house last night for the officers of the naval patrol and their wives. The “[?]” left in the morning without saying good bye or anything. – Most [?] – especially as the ball was more or less an official one. It made us rather short of men as we had depended upon the younger officers.

Today I took up the case of two young boys, only 14, who are in jail on robbery charge. I expect to get them released in charge of the Board of Childrens’ Guardians until their trial I had the marshall bring them up and told them that I would flay them alive if they did not behave themselves. Old S[?] gave them a kind fatherly talk.

Dispatches state that a congressional committee is on the way to investigate the and that perhaps Secretary Lane will be in the party. Hallowell will anyhow.

Aug 10th. Fred Conduat and I returned from a ten day jaunt to Portland Canal the scene of the latest mining excitement. We chartered the launch “Dixie” which we made our home. I did most of the cooking. Fred most of the [?]. We lay out on deck almost all day, took sea water splash baths and enjoyed ourselves largely. We stopped Renée and I are going West with them on the Alameda so I am pretty busy getting my desk cleared up.

Aug 27th – On steamer “Ad[?] Watson” en route Juneau via Kenai, Iliamna Bay, Sung Harbor, Kodiak, Port Graham and Seward. We are now off Afognak Island.

Mr Hallowell, the assistant to the Secretary, Col. G. T. Slade, Col. Mears, Mrs Mears + children and Mrs Hallwell came along on the Alameda on Sunday the 19th (?) and Renée, the Conduts and I packed up and trailed. Just before leaving Rustgaard at the instance of Wickersham served me with a copy of the House resolution in the case of Wickersham versus Griggsby and a letter demanding that I send the election records immediately to Washington. Of course I was going to give up the entire trip just to help Wick out. Wick was also on hand and went as far as Valdez where he is trying to get evidence in his contest.

Renée and I were very much pleased with both the Hallowells. He is [earnest] and agreeable, before joining the Secy he was one of H[?]'s dollar a year men. Mears is much the same as ever and can't cheer up to save his life. [?] Slade, a vice president of the Northern Pacific Ry, formally in charge of operations of railroads in France and [Juneau's?] boss is along to report on the engineering end. Certain member of the party is Gamle the accountant. Gamble told me that Browne in Nenana had undoubtedly stampeded and that the relocation of the line was absolutely unwarranted.

H. wanted me to go [?] B[?] Pa[?] with him in Fairbanks but I was not able to get away for that length of time owing to Dandson's death and to the necessity of getting my report in.

With the exception of Mears the party was a very congenial one. We had lots of fun. Fred was fine and cracked them all up.

Our first stop was Cordova. All went up in [Corser?]'s private car to the glacier except B[?] and J. I forgot to state that Alfred [H?]. B[?] of the Geological Survey was also one of the party. I got H. to talk with George Hazelett while I talked politics with Tom Donohoe.

Valdez was reached in the night and at La Touche we all were taken through the mill except Renée and me. We walked out to the glory hole and enjoyed the sunshine. At Cordova we met Fred Bradley who had been making a trip though the interior and was on his way back to Juneau.

At Seward we had a conference with the Chamber of Commerce. Fred made a [bully?] speech which got them all in a good humor. He said all we need in Alaska is “Liberty and transportation which pretty nearly covers the bill. The next day Mr + Ms Weir took us in the car seaward to mile 52 where we transferred to a speeder as they were enlarging the tunnels. At mile 56 we transferred to the A. [I?]. G[esig?] and Hansen meeting us. We arrive in Anchorage at 8.30 and as the Alameda was in port the Conduts and Renée who was returning on her had to leave immediately. I took them out to the steamer and said good bye. I was genuinely sorry to see the C's go. They fitted into our [?] very nicely.

~~The following day~~ That night we had the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce where we all made speeches and Sunday we went up to Eska and Chickaloon. We went through the coal mines and I was much pleased to see the development at Eska.

The railroad situation is precarious. All of the authorization of $35,000,000 has been spent or obligated and [?] we further asked for authorization of $17,000,000 is forth coming the project must shut down which would be disastrous to the country.

I like the way [N?]. is taking hold of matters. He has a good grasp of affairs.

My enemies Charlie Henon and Wilber Ward of the Anchorage Times were very cordial. We g[?]yed each other and the Lines printed a very nice editorial about me. Henon showed me a wire from Valdez. Wick in examining a woman made some insulting remarks and after the hearings her husband took a fall out of "Fighting Jim" and knocked out a tooth. Good for the boy.

The [H? N?]. party had dinner Monday at the Matanuska experimental farm, all the menu being home grown. The party with the exception of Col Slade went on to end of steel en route to Fairbanks. We came back to Anchorage on a speeder and caught the "Admiral Watson" out and are now on our way home in a round about way. The ship is crowded.

I should have mentioned ex-governor Cowel of Alabama who was an Alamda passenger. He got off at Cordova and is going to the White River country. He is evidently very rich and a profiteer. His [?] said they owned [four?] cotton mills, the last one cost a million and a half dollars and paid for itself in a year. We also had a [?] of sportsmen and movie men. The party all had to p[ose?] several [times?].

The ship is crowded with cannery crews that are quitting early on account of the short fish run. Col Slade and I have stateroom 4 which includes a half interest in a bath room.

Kodiak yesterday very early in the morning. Karl Armstrong the deputy marshal took us in tow and showed us the sights and introduced us to all the prominent citizens. We saw the cannery, the experimental farm, the Russian church and the village. I was surprised to see how neat and clean were the houses of the Russian half heads. The [Evest?] Survey ship "Surveyor" was in port so I invited Col. Slade to have lunch on board with my old friend Frank Hardy in Command. Hardy was delighted to see us. His wife, mother-in-law and two kids were there also. They are camped on the island accross from Kodiak. Hardy was executive officer on the transport Martha Washington during the war. We dined on fresh chicken at Armstrongs. Mr + Mrs Easkine and Alva E[?] the P.O. inspector being the other guests. A very pleasant evening.

The church is a good example of Russian church architecture but has not the beautiful things in it as are found at Sitka. Kodiak is the oldest Russian town in Alaska having been founded in 1793.

Today in the morning we knocked around town and talked to the inhabitants.

Said goodbye to all and left at 6 p.m amid the blowing of whistles. The U.S.S. "[Nanshan?]" in the [?] harbor.

Kodiak is beautiful and I enjoyed my visit. S. writing a voluminous report to the secretary.

Sept 1st Monday.

Arrived about 9 a.m in Valdez. A wonderfully beautiful day. Yesterday we were at Seward. Quite a trip around the country. After leaving Kodiak we went first to Port Chatham, Port Graham and then Seward and LaTouche. Every berth on the steamer sold and people being turned away. Today Col. Slade and I walked around town and saw all the prominent people. In afternoon Tony Dimard took us out the trail. The Keystone Canyon road is washed out and no one has money to repair it. All Valdez is very much interested in Wick's fight and his taking of depositions of the signal corp. boys. He had two on the stand and they swore that they voted for him so he gave up calling any more saying that there was a conspiracy against him.

[Mrs + Miss?] Grover of St. Paul are on board. An older Miss Grover was the first wife of E. C. Barnard my old boss on the 49th boundary. There are also two of the nurses who were at Nushagak during the 'flu epidemic. Miss [Morris?] and Miss Conley. They had a hard time with all the poor little orphans.

Sept 3rd

Still wonderful weather. Both Mt St Elias and Mt Fairweather in sight all the morning and most of the afternoon. Sea like glass.

Sept 7th

Glorious weather all the time. Have been working like a Trojan to get desk cleared up and my report under way. It seems as though everybody in the world wants to see me all at once. Letters from Kate regarding the Delaware and Hudson property make it look as tough Phil Saltonstall is trying to put one over on the heirs. I don't like it.

Sept 20th

Here I am at Ketchikan waiting for a steamer to come along and take me home. The Alaska is expected tomorrow with Griggslly on board. Of course every one will say that I came down here to meet him. Hallowell came in from the [Wistrond?] day before yesterday. I wired him to stop over but he is pressed for time but sent me a radio asking me to come as far as Ketchikan with him. The Alameda, his ship got to Juneau about 1 a.m. so Mrs Hallowell who was stopping with us and I [filed?] on down. The next day (Friday) H. B[?] and I sat in B[?] and my stateroom and talked all day long. H. has a great many good ideas and accepts suggestions but like most cheechakos knows a little more about the country than we old timers. He is a very fine fellow however and by all means the best representative the department has ever sent up. I think some good will result from his trip.

Mrs H. got to Juneau about then days ago while her Husband was on his trip across B[?] Pass. She is just as nice as he is. They evidently have quite a little money as they can afford to take a jot at almost nothing. We were very sorry to part company.

On the 12th. Renée, Mrs. H. [?] of the forest service and I started for Sitka. We had a very rough trip on the "Taku" down Chatham Straits and the girls got badly tossed about. The waves at times went right over the pilot house. The girls were game though and wanted to keep on. Sunday in Sitka was simply a wonderful day and we saw everything there was to see. We even went to church at the old Russian church where the priest said the service in Russian and an interpreter translate it into Tlinket. We then saw all the wonderful church treasures.

I have been just as busy as possible in getting up my report but it will not be out before Oct 1st. I was ordered to get it out by Sept 15th.

[pg. 117]
Sept 27 –

Got my report finished and in the mail yesterday just as a wire came in from assistant secretary Hopkins demanding to know where it was.

Renée still ill and I am quite worried about her. She has not gotten over the shaking up she got on the “Taku” on our trip to Sitka. Doctor doesn’t really seem to know what the matter is, thinks it [?] indigestion. Poor girl is very tired and has a great deal of pain.

Yesterday the Northwestern came in. I had a little glimpse of Mrs C[askey?] the wife of the editor of the Citizen at Fairbanks. Ed Walcott the court stenographer on board but got left, The steamer pulled out 15 minutes early and was ordered back after she had gone about 20 miles. Ed in the mean while had gone walking and got left again.

Came up from Ketchikan on the Alaska. Griggsby on board. I was glad to hear of his fight in Congress against Wickersham. Yesterday Wick came in town. I am beginning to believe that he is mentally unbalanced. What a blessing it will be when he finally gets fired from Alaska political life.

Court very busy. They have connected one man of murder and have several more to try. We are getting good action on the bootleggers and that Renée getting better and is up and around. Mr [Flory?] of the Forest Service is also an invalid at the house. He was quite ill at the hospital for a while after returning from Sitka so Renée insisted that he come to us. For a time he ran quite a temperature but is better now although pretty weak.

Griggsby has gone to Ketchikan in the interest of his contest. He brought out some pretty good testimony here. Wick is trying to have the Indian vote thrown out and now it has been shown that Wick and his creature John B. Marshall endeavored to get certain natives working for him at the elections. That’s an awfully crooked bunch.

We are all very much worried about the president’s condition. What a calamity it would be to the country if he should die.

Kate writes that father was very ill for a time with the old trouble but got over it. 88 years is pretty well along for severe sicknesses. What would we do if Kate were not in Washington to look after matters.

[pg. 119]

Oct 21st Renée seemingly herself again although she complains of a pain in her chest somewhat.

Nothing much of moment to record except that Arvid Franzen, the dep[?] secretary of the Alaska Labor Union is trying to get some of his enemies. He took from the files a lot of letters which are very incriminating to some of the members and which show their affiliation with the I. W. W. B. R. Sawyer the secretary is being tried for sedition at Ketchikan so I immediately forwarded them to the district attorney. One of the letters is signed "Yours for the red dawn". Jack Sutherland's letter describes his planting of J. W. W. workers in the Alaska Juneau [and] the Kennicott mines. We evidently have a fine lot here in Alaska. They are to pull off a general strike as soon as the time is right. I had the two Bradleys here and went over the matter with them pretty thoroughly. The new officers of the [?] in trying to get possession of the papers had a mix up with Franzen and in the mix up Mrs Franzen shot a man in the toe. Franzen was arrested and is now on bail. I got Bradley to [?] the bail for him. Today Franzen brought me the [?] of the union which show the A. J. to be planted.

[pg. 120]

Oct 23rd

John Troy called me up about six o'clock to tell me that he had just received a telegram from Ketchikan stating that Ass't U. S. Attorney [Steve?] Ragan had been shot and killed by a man named Pat [Shamrahan?]. It was first supposed that it was the work of I. W. W. in connection with the Sawyer I. W. W. and [?] case that Ragan was prosecuting. This however proved not to be established. The man seems to have been somewhat unbalanced and had made threats in the past against Federal officials.

Oct 24th Everybody aroused over the murder of Ragan. Nothing more on it than related yesterday. Mrs [Simion?] the wife of the District Attorney came around to the house last night, very much worried for fear that it might be aimed at her husband who is now with the court at Ketchikan but I think I allayed her fears. I hope the J. W. W. were back of the murder as then we would have an opportunity of ridding the country of them through vigilante methods. I certainly would not stop any such action if I could possibly shut my eyes to it.

Oct 25. Beautiful weather. Renée and kids off on auto ride with Mrs Sloane. Lisette has bad cough. Renée pretty well now. Mail in and very busy

[pg. 121]

Very much upset in the office. I got an allotment from the treasury department to have this old office building repaired and the carpenters and painters are in here thick as thieves, putting on [?] and painting. My room is now practically all finished and is greatly improved. Looks light and clean even if not fancy. The [?] both have bad colds. I have been working for the past two days at the house but it is pretty hard to do anything there with all the interruptions. Tried to take out some more life insurance but got turned down on account of the little [epitheliona?] that I got cut out about for years ago. I have got to find some other way to save.

Nov 2nd

Two days in the house account of bad cold and some temperature 101's so Dr Sloane whom Renée insisted on inflicting on me kept me in bed Saturday (yesterday) Today I had to get up as I had called a meeting of some of the representative men to discuss J. W. W[inn?] and other radicals. Present were Belereuds, Casey, Cramer, Murphy, 2 Hellenthals, Rerk, Bradley, Burton, Mayor Gray, Faulkner, Troy, Dr Sloane, Clark, Winn, White and Sommers,

After considerable discussion in which the gravity of the situation was brought out it was decided to form a "Leage to enforce Law". I appointed a committee consisting of Reck, Burton and Murphy to draw up a declaration of principles and submit it to a meeting to meet at the house on Tuesday. Everyone except Behrends realizes that a minority of reds are controlling all the labor unions in the country and are endeavoring to demoralize industry in Alaska. It is also thought that Steve Ragan, U. S. Ass't district attorney was murdered as a result of the I. W. W. working upon the deranged mind of the [assassin] [Shamrahan?]. Ketchikan is absolutely in the hands of the radicals and the strike is still held at the Alaska Juneau. It is a critical time. Judge Winn and Casey are in favor of lynching one or two and while I feel that such action would go far toward restoring order in the community still cannot countenance any violence. I hope I have started something which will help the federal authorities.

Another meeting. Decided to call the organization "Americans". Governor to be president. Secy-treasurer to be appointed. Finances to be raised by subscription. We raised #3[025?].00.

Nov 6th L. L. Harding hired as Secy-Treas at $175.00 per month. Now at work. New suggestion for name – The R[?]ters – Dean Christian back with a longer face than ever. Finally [broke?] in on me while very busy.

Nov 9th – Went on ducking trip yesterday in Santa Rita with Billy Dickeson, Billy Taylor the candy man and Art Weston an ex- A. E. F. soldier. Blinding snow storm. Big sea in Lynn Canal and two gasoline tanks got loose in hold. Had to put into Auk Cove where we straightened things around. Weather calmed down about 3.30 made Eagle River, but too dark to do any shooting on the flats. Next day hunted round the sloughs in about a foot of snow but no ducks there. Went up to Eagle River flats, but it was high and dry and the few ducks were flying high. Killed a lot of [clips?] and came home over the var.

Nov 15 –

Last night had a meeting of the executive committee of the Americans at the house. Membership growing and a good deal of enthusiasm manifested. Talked over ways of getting rid of the I.W.W. and Bolshivists and I appointed a committee consisting of Winn, Hellenthal and Folson to devise ways of legal harassment Garfield and I care to see S[teenels?] the immigration inspector at Ketchikan.

Left for Seattle on the Princess Mary at 9.30 a.m. to attend Fisheries hearing on the 20th and to take up matters re shipping board. [Murphy?] going too[.] Renée has rather a bad cold and I do not like to leave her.

Made a speech at American Legion hall [?]ting I. W. W. the legion is pretty well aroused on account of the [?] murders.

Nov 16. Arrived Ketchikan early in the morning. Saw Judge Jennings and S[?]. Gave S[?] information that B. R. Sawyer the I.W.W. agitator was registered at Kenai and is listed as a [deserter]. Sharpe the deputy marshall immediately rearrested him. He had been turned loose from the charge of non registration for lack of evidence. I had already given Steve Ragan the murdered assistant district attorney the information but he had made notes in short hand that no one could read so they had been working in the dark. Patterning after no Ketchikan at an overflow meeting organized the 100 per cent American. Bob Heckman came through in great shape and gave me several compliments. Bob after playing politics with the bad element got badly stung. They pulled a strike on him the very first one. Now of course he is all with us and down on his old play mates. Left Ketchikan at 2 p.m.

Nov 17. Prince Rupert. Went ashore with Murphy and walked up town. Constant game of black Jack in smoking room.

Nov 18 – Vancouver at 8 p.m. Went up town with Garfield and ran across [Clotherer?] of Hyder who tells me that Roman is finding good prospects on the Pittsmast. Also had a talk with Cap't Micholson of the Grand Trunk who wants to get into the Alaska trade pretty strong. Admiral [Jellicoe?] in Vancouver with the flagship New Zealand. Had a glimpse of him going to a ball. [Took?] [boat?] [call?] for Seattle.

Arrived in Seattle at 7.30 a.m. got room at the Frye. Place filled with Alaskans. Saw Leekey and Wheeler. Lunch with Leekey. Conference with O'Malley, B[?] Bower and Ch[?] of Bureau of Fisheries, played innocent regarding secret instructions given by Bureau to allow commercial fishing in Chilcoot, Chilcat and relaxation of limits in Yukon. They [?] and said that they did not have enough money to patrol. Saw Hardey of Tenakee Fisheries and arranged with him for meeting with Cannery men to discuss prevention of fish piracy. Asked Mary and Frank to have dinner with me. Mary looking very badly. She went home after dinner and Frank and I went to a movie. Saw the German pictures of the sinking of [merchantruers?] by submarine, as we came out saw bulletin that the senate had refused to pass treaty and had adjourned. This seems too awful to be true. Telegram from Cramer of suspected case of small pox at Kate. [?] of course passing the buck again. Wired Cramer to have Sloane send Dr Kirby down there and that we would arrange for payment afterward.

Dec 2nd

All during my stay in Seattle I had absolutely had no time to write herein. As soon as it became known that I was in town there was a constant march. I had dinner with Mike Wheeler twice and he had dinner once with me. Otherwise I bought no dinners and few lunches. I would get up every day at 7.30 and it was generally 1 a.m before I would crawl into bed worn out. Nov 20 was the first fisheries hearing For Bristol Bay. I opened the hearings with a short speech saying that all get together to preserve the fisheries after which several spoke of being in entire sympathy and then began to grab for special [privilege]. The fishermen wanted all traps abolished and the canners wanted all streams closed except those on which they themselves were fishing. Southeastern Alaska was taken up on the 20th. Garfield started something by bringing to the attention of the meeting the secret opening of the Chilkat and Chilcoot. Otto Burkhardt then wanted to know why he too had not been notified. For a while it looked like civil war. The chairman B[?] was badly scared. A lot of men made long winded speeches about what ought to be done, especially the lawyers who know little about fish but think they must somehow earn their retainers.

I got B[?] and O'Malley of the Bureau of Fisheries together and told them that I had all the goods on the Commissioner of Fisheries on the secret river openings. At first they were inclined to deny it until I pulled the copies of letters written by Dr Smith to P.E. Harris of the Harris Packing Co and to Walter, then they became good dogs. I made them admit that Ball had been kept off the Copper River on account of his row with Hadley who had been packing bad fish. I had already asked Ball flat footedly why he had not gone on the Copper River and he conjured that the Commissioner had instructed him not to. Bower passed the buck to Dr Smith. The fisheries men are badly scared for they know that the Bureau had absolutely no rights to open any streams and particularly to keep the opening order quiet for the [?]fish of particular [?]

B[?] tried to say that the Bureau did not want control of the fisheries until I quoted Dr Smith's letter saying that the Alexander bill had been carefully considered by the bureau and defunded by their agent. [Topp?] told me that B[?] had come to him for suggestions as to how to protect the Commissioner in his bad mess and that [Topp?] had shown him a copy of the opening order written to Harris Packing Co. That had seemed to relieve B[?] who said "why of course the matter has been given wide publicity." I told Garfield not to follow the matter up as we had a powerful club in the matter whenever we wanted to use it.

Harris seemed very much [impressed?] when told him that he had been pretty smooth and denied knowing that the opening had been kept quiet until I showed him a copy of a letter to the Harris Packing Co of which he is president and the one to Walter, then he smiled a fat smile and walked away.

The day before I left I saw B[own?] and advised cl[?]ing all streams in Southeastern Alaska. He read me his recommendation to Smith which practically does this except that he dodges the question as to what constitutes the mouth of a stream – Low tide or high tide. I can't help but feel that there are true concerns that have a great deal of influence namely Libby, McNeill and Libby, P E. Harris and Carlisle Packing Co. I recommended to B[own?] that the Yukon question be carefully investigated next year before making any drastic recommendations on unreliable information. All evidence is very conflicting and I do not believe that less than 500,000 fish taken last year in and outside the Yukon will seriously affect the natives.

A committee of canners and I discussed the advisability of turning over the conduct of the fisheries to the territory. They are afraid of us, so we compromised drafting a law which provides that for four years a committee of two canners and two Alaskans, the four to select a fifth should take charge after which the [ty?] should leave the fisheries under a similar agreement.

Warren the president of the Association of Pacific Fisheries and a very [?]ing man is to lead the committee to draft the law. He appointed O'Mally of the Bureau and Prof. Cobb of the University of Washington to draft the law and I appointed Garfield and Bugle of the territorial commission to represent me for Alaska. Bugle is already in Seattle and Garfield will go back about the middle of December then I will give it the final once over in January on my way East.

Another meeting took up the privacy question. I told them to back up my constabulary scheme, more [?] chasers, [detachments] of soldiers to watch traps and power for the governor to appoint Wardens without pay, the charges to be assessed against the packers, I had to sit up until two o'clock after things had quieted down to formulate the plan in a letter.

I made three speeches in Seattle
at – the Chamber of Commerce luncheon where I spoke with Gov. Hart of Washington, at the Arctic Club on Alaska night and to the Alaska Bureau. All three on the I. W. W. and other reds. They tell me that I bolstered Hart up who has been pretty weak. He made a fine speech.

I had dinner at night with Leekey, Dr + Mrs [?] and Mrs Sulzer at the Arctic Club, with Glaen Frye of Nome.

and [Lopp?]. With Al Zipp, Thanksgiving with Mary and Frank at Alkie and on Saturday the 29 David White[?] gave a [widow?] and [widower?] party at the Boulevard Inn where we danced until 1. Sunday I left for home. Oh yes I also had dinner with the Mans's at the golf club and with Dr and Mrs Parry at the university Club.

A letter from Renée saying the babies have whooping cough. I am afraid she is doing too much.
Ran in to Scott Calhoon a

and wanted us in on the deal but I said
"no". I offered to sell [on are?] half interest for $3000.00 cash and $25,000 on deferred payments which he accepted

After the fisheries came the shipping board.
They have come to my idea that the people of Alaska are paying for free transportation of Kennecott ore. S[?] [has?] gotten some very valuable data on which we can base our policy. Saw Ba[?] and Harris of the two steamship companies and got on with them very nicely. The Alaskan Engineering Commission and the companies had gotten tangled again but I think that I laid the way to get them together again.
I do not want any governmental transportation until the government is ready to perform all service. Mears only sees his own needs and not the needs of the future of the railroad or of the people of Alaska.

Ketchikan today. The "Americans" have done fine work about eight reds have left town, Sawyer has been taken to Fort [Lewton?] as a deserter, Hall gone to Juneau for safe keeping in jail and several others under arrest. The movement is spreading all over the territory, for the present I think we have the last of them.

Fine voyage so far. Have room 26 on Alameda by myself which is one of the best rooms on the ship. No snow in Ketchikan which would probably surprise some of our eastern friends.

Dec 3rd

Arrived home at 9. a.m. Renée and Lisette and Bobs at the dock to meet me. Mighty glad to be home again. Harry St George up for luncheon. At office in afternoon reading mail of which there is a great accumulation.

Dec 7 (Sunday)

Dodged church today although Dean Christian called yesterday. Cramer wouldn't let him in. Wrote my Sunday letter to Father. After church Renée and I took the kids out [crasting?]. In the afternoon we addressed about 250 Christmas cards which are quite snappy.

Weather perfect. Tonight a wonderful glow all around the horizon. It looked as though the whole world was on fire.

Have been very busy since my return and have not half cleared up my desk.

Smallpox at Petersburg and Kake and Petersburg refuses to pay her bills. Rustgaard says that the territory must pay. Of course he only wants a job.

Dec 21st Sunday.

Babies both wildly excited over the coming of Christmas and hold lengthy conversations up the chimney with Santa Claus. Whenever they are naughty I call up Santa on the phone and try to explain it away. Tommy begs me not to tell him. I got a lot of toys in Seattle but we have had to fill in here. Toys from Nelan's and Behrends and candy from Billy Taylor's.

Smallpox is becoming quite a menace. Up till yesterday there had been 52 cases reported. The surgeon general has allowed me to appoint assistants where needed, so I have appointed Dr Surick of Wrangell and Dr Kirby. Petersburg seems not to be clear.

The shame of Wisconsin was republished yesterday. Victor Berger the disloyal congressman had not been allowed to take his seat but he was reelected from Milwaukee. Congress is doing nothing except play politics and letting the country go to the devil. Secretary Lane has announced his intention to retire from the cabinet. This is a blow to us.

My report is out and receiving favorable criticism.

Dec 24 –

Office closed today but I had to do a little work just the same. Dr Kirby down with smallpox at Kake. Under authority of Surgeon-General Blue appointed Kirby, S[?] of Wrangell and Sloane at $200.00 per month and subsistence. S[?] sent one to Kake and surrounding country. Got fisheries boat Auklett for his use. 37 cases at Kake.

Great afternoon for the kids, a Christmas tree here and about 30 youngsters, most of them seemed to have whooping cough. They enjoyed themselves though and ate lots of candy and ice cream. [Fenton?] - Santa Clause

After dinner I went to the Christmas tree of the natives. It was very creditable. All the kids were clean and happy. They had their own Santa Clause.

I suppose the givers of presents have some ulterior purpose. It generally works out that way.

Surprised myself and everybody else by going to church. Dear Christian preachers everything in religion which is contrary to my own beliefs, so I enjoy going to church. I think he is a little insane on the question of the church. He would have shone in the days of the inquisition. He had his church living with great bug signs like a cafeteria but instead of putting forth the price of ham and eggs, urged everybody to give up their all to the church. Music fairly good.

In the afternoon Bishop Crimont and Father R[?] called. Jerry Murphy the attorney-general for dinner.

Telegram from Fred Crudut and Mrs St George.

Kate sent Renée a bottle of Roche's [Emedication?] for whooping cough. I gave some to Jack Lund and the Stewart's They swear it saved their kids' lives. I nearly rubbed Tommy's chest off with it last night.
