CAAMANO

(Lieut. Don Jacinto) Spanish

In the corvette "Aranzazu" sent out in 1792 by Count de Revillagigedo, Viceroy of Mexico, to explore the N.W. coast about Juan de Fuca strait and northward to determine truth of de Fonte's reported N.W. Passage. Left San Blas Mar. 20, 1792 and arrive Bucareli bay on July 12, Then surveyed south along Alaska coast and B.C. Returned to San Blas Feb. 6, 1793 No general report of his work was published until long afterwards. Vancouver met him in the field and apparently obtained copies of some of his maps, especially of places north of Dixon entrance, which he incorporated in his atlas.

CARMACK, GEO. W.

Discovered Klondike

PATHFINDER Oct. 1920 pp. 25; V.G.

Born at Port Cost, Calif. Sept. 24, 1860 on a cattle ranch.

Left S.F. Mar. 31, 1885 and Arr. Juneau in Apr. where he organized party of 7 men which crossed the Chilkoot Pass in May and prospected the headwaters of the Lewes and Lakes as far as Miles Canyon, without success. He returned to Juneau that winter. Joined Maj. Ogilvie's survey party in Spring 1886 and piloted them to Lake Bennett.

During the 11 years that he wandered around in the North country he had two trusted siwashes, "Skookum Jim" and "Tagish Charlie"

In 1889 he headed down the Yukon to 40-Mile creek and down to Fort Yukon and back.

In 1890 he was on Birch Creek. and during the next 4 years he had a trading post at Five Fingers and built the mission bldg. at Pelly River, or Old Fort Selkirk.

In spring of 1896 he went back to the 40-Mile again. On Aug. 17th, he and his Siwashes went fishing for salmon on the Klondike River and on that date Carmack stuck the first shovel into the ground beside a big birch tree, and found color. They filled a cartridge shell full of the yellow metal. Carmack staked the "Discovery Claim" with the "Skookum Jim No.1" above and the "Tagish Charlie" Noll, below, and the party then started for the 40-mile to record

CHERNOF

Was a pilot in employ of Russian American Co. Made surveys Sviechnikof harbor, in Amlia island and in Rat island group of Aleutians 1832. Lutke, 1836, says knowledge of Rat Islands though very incomplete, was due to Ingenstrem and Chernof. Tebenkof's notes refer to Chernof work.

He is doubtless the same Ivan Chernof who, as a lad, was given by the Indians to the Russians as a hostage in 1804 and returned to them in 1805. He attended navigation school at Sitka and afterwards was long in the service of the Russian American Co. as a pilot. 1838 was skipper of the Russ-Am. Co. brig "Polyfem", in which Kashevarof explored the Arctic coast. Died in 1877 and his descendants live on Afognak island.

COFFIN, CAPT. EVERET B.

Died in Jan. 1950 at age of 84 years. To his many friends, he was a walking encyclopedia of marine lore, yarns etc. Many people booked passage on the "Tacoma" just to chat with him.

Commanded the express str. "Tacoma" from 1914 to his retirement in 1932. She was considered the speed queen of the Sound and Capt. Coffin the dean of Puget Sound skippers

First time at sea was on a grimy whaler out of Nantucket until wrecked on Atlantic Coast. Came to the Sound in 1888 and served on many old ships on the Sound. Eventually commanded "Idaho", "Geo. E. Starr" and "Flyer"

Before turn of century tried his luck in Yukon gold fields, but ended up working on river steamers.

Has a family tree which reaches into history making maritime events.

Was a descendent of first man to land on Nantucket Id in 1659. His great-grandfather was skipper of the tea ship "Beaver" host craft for the Boston Tea Party. Another captain on his mother's side, discovered the mutineers on Pitcairn Id. and another of his family, a Capt. Folger commanded the "Exact" which brought the settlers to Seattle in 1851. Surviving are his wife Laura and two sons Everett H. and Myron Coffin.

M. D. Jan. 21, 1950

Born at Nantucket, East Coast 1866; Started career in fo'casle of New Bedford whaler. Shipwrecked. In 1888 he came to P;S.D. Worked as deckhand on side-wheel tug "Cyrus Wheeler" Up ladder--to "Edith", "Eliza Anderson", "J.B. Libby", "City of Kingston", and "Geo.E.Starr" Then to Mstr. on veteran paddle-wheel str. "Idaho"

Went to Alondyke in 1898, no luck, back and to "Flyer" Finally to Master on "Tacoma", finest and fastest vessel ever on Seattle-Tacoma run.

At age of 82 he was still hale and hearty and was guest of honor at recent meeting of P.Sd. Historical Society '48 (Oct.)
