HUMOR OF A BYGONE DAY

~~DADisp. Dec. 7, 1912-----~~The Mayor of an Eng. town who had had very little experience in public speaking consulted a friend as to what he should say in proposing a toast to a distinguished lady who was visiting the borough for a public ceremony.

"Oh, be quite brief." said his friend. "You might mention her being a model of all the virtues and that sort of thing but the less you say the better."

And this is what the Mayor said: "Gentlemen, I propose to you the toast of our guest. You know they say she's a model of all the virtues, but the less we say about that the better."
