HISTORICAL NOTE

Over the course of 25 years and on 15 separate visits to the USSR, Professor Glynn R. deV. Barratt (Carleton University of Ottawa, Canada) collected a large body of Russian materials, some of which are found in this collection. Notably, Barratt collected Alaskan materials from the central state archives of Leningrad and Tartu in 1987 and the State Russian Museum, Leningrad.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS NOTE

The collection contains materials dating from ca 1803 until ca 1828; it includes photocopies of inventories from the Peter-the-Great Museum of Ethnography, a copy of the entire Kruzenshtern Collection (Fond 1414) from ENSV Riiklik Keskarkhiv (Central State Historical Archive of the Estonian SSR, Tartu), unpublished works by Evgeniia Blomkvist and other articles and unpublished essays.

SUBJECTS

Russian American Explorers and Artists, Alaska Ethnography, Russian to English translations.
