Biographical Note

Bernice's mother, Minnie E. Schaeffer (Stroud) Winsor, was the oldest of the four Stroud children. The two youngest were boys with the last name of Stroud. The younger son, Marcus, worked for Winter & Pond for a time, then took the stage name Lawrence G. Marcus and became an escape-artist on the vaudeville circuit. They lived in the Juneau area from around 1908-1922.

Scope and Contents Notes

Photographs and postcards are primarily of Juneau with a few other southeast Alaska towns included. Winter & Pond, W.H. Case and C.W. Beyers, Ordway, F. Matheson, and Kirk[?] photographers are represented in the collection. A photograph listing on W.H. Case letterhead follows the photographs, however, only photographs 1-27 were received by the Library. Also included is a description of The Beaver Pole and a blueprint of a floating trap and equipment. The bulk of the photographs were from the 1907-1935 time period.
