

INTRODUCTION

The Alaska State Library produces this annual publication because we feel that such an annotated list is of value to libraries in Alaska. We have attempted to make this list as complete as possible for titles that appeared in 1998 as well as some titles missed in previous years. Some Books About Alaska notes books that are not necessarily held by the Alaska State Library. Please consult your local library or other library databases for libraries holding these titles. NOT included are general travel guides to Alaska and books, such as the Milepost, which are published annually.

Every attempt has been made to have each title reviewed by a librarian. Several Alaskan librarians from around the state assisted in this compilation. Much of the credit for this year's compilation is due Ann Doyle of the Alaska State Library's Alaska Historical Collections. Especially helpful have been Kay Myers and Bruce Merrell of Anchorage Municipal Libraries. Kay reviewed the children's books. Bruce reviewed non-fiction titles with Ann Doyle and also shared his listing that appeared first in the journal published by the Alaska Historical Society, Alaska History. Thanks to that publication for agreeing to let us reprint some of the entries. I also thank Hearthside Books of Juneau for allowing me to review books from their shelves and Cook Inlet Book Company of Anchorage for doing the same for Bruce.

Many titles are available through interlibrary loan, and libraries are encouraged to review titles before making the decision to purchase.

Publications are available from the publisher of the work or other indicated source. Bookstores in Alaska also offer these titles, at times with a discount to libraries. The last page of this publication notes some bookstores in the state that may have some of the more obscure current Alaskan titles. The Alaska State Library does not offer books for sale. Also, remember that all prices are subject to change and that those prices listed here may no longer be accurate. In some cases, we have received the book as a gift and do not know the price.

Annotations to the list::

♥ First Purchase Recommendation: As in past years, we are using this feature to designate those books which the committee felt were most worthy of consideration for first purchase by small and medium-sized libraries and school library-media centers. Each library must, of course, make its own decision on whether to purchase these titles, comparing each to the library's book selection policy. Our choices are necessarily subjective, but we have attempted to include titles of general interest and to omit those which are highly specialized. We also have not marked materials of local interest only, but have noted regional publications which we felt were outstanding.

ASD Alaska State Depository: A small selection of titles produced by the Alaska State Government as well as non-state publications received for distribution by the Alaska State Documents Program at the Alaska State Library are listed. They are noted here to alert readers to publications that may not appear in bookstores. After the bibliographic information, these titles are designated as "ASD" which means that they were distributed to the Alaska State Depositories and thus may be reviewed at libraries participating in the program. The address and/or contact within the agency is included with the citation. Thanks to Patience Frederiksen, Government Publications Librarian, Alaska State Library, for her assistance with the selection and annotation of these titles.

Alaska materials can be elusive, being published in limited quantity with little publicity. We will appreciate receiving information for current, especially locally produced titles not included here. Please send comments and inquiries to the following address: Alaska Historical Collections, Alaska State Library, PO Box 110571, Juneau, AK 99811-0571.

Now she must quickly uncover the truth behind the crash, before she too meets with a fatal "accident."

Saghani, Johnny. A Cold Day to Die : a Novel (Anchorage : Salmon Run Press, 1998), 153 pp., paperback, $12.95, ISBN1887573046, P.O. Box 672130, Chugiak, AK 99567-2130. Based on real life events, this is the story of a young Indian man raised in a rural village surrounded by alcoholism, poverty, and dissolution, and about the contemporary urban social problems which define and affect his life.

Stabenow, Dana. Fire and Ice : a Liam Campbell Mystery (New York : Dutton, 1998), 264 pp., $23.95, ISBN0525944389, 375 Hudson St., New York, NY 10014-3657.. After losing his family and his career, an Alaskan State Trooper finds himself on a plane to his new posting--a small native town far from Anchorage. And fate isn't finished with him yet. No sooner does he set foot off the plane than he is confronted with a dead body and the accusing glare of the only woman he'd ever truly loved . . . and lost.

Stabenow, Dana. Killing Grounds : a Kate Shugak Mystery (New York : G.P. Putnam's Sons, 1998), 273 pp., $22.95, ISBN0399143564, 375 Hudson St., New York, NY 10014-3657, 1-800-331-4624. With the attention to the details and difficulties of Alaskan life and another of the brilliantly crafted plots that have made her one of the Pacific Northwest's finest writers, Dana Stabenow has created a picture postcard from the Last Frontier, where the call of the wild should never be underestimated in politics, in commercial fishing, or in murder.

♥Stein, Garth. Raven Stole the Moon : a Novel (New York : Pocket Books, 1998), 369 pp., $22.00, ISBN067100459X, Pocket Books Ordering Dept., 200 Old Tappan Rd., Old Tappan, NJ 07675, 1-800-223-2336. In this haunting debut, Garth Stein brilliantly invokes his Native American heritage and its folklore to create an electrifying supernatural thriller. When a grieving mother returns to the remote Alaskan town where her young son drowned, she discovers that the truth about her son's death is shrouded in legend—and buried in a terrifying wrinkle between life and death.

Stories of the Far North, introduction by Jon Tuska (Lincoln : University of Nebraska Press, 1998), 145 pp., $15.00, ISBN0803294344, University of Nebraska Press, 312 North 14th Street, Lincoln, Nebraska 68588. "Bison books"--Spine. The league of the old men / Jack London -- The Trail of 'Ninety-eight (ballad) / Robert Service -- The test / Rex Beach -- The strength of men / James Oliver Curwood -- The man who goes alone / Max Brand -- The great hunger / Dan Cushman -- Mush fast or die! / Les Savage, Jr. -- Cheechako trouble / James B. Hendryx -- Color at Forty-Mile / Tim Champlin. These stories revolve around the Klondike gold rush of 1898. Well known and little-known authors have contributed to this collection, some brought back into print after many decades.

Straley, John, 1953- The Angels Will Not Care (New York : Bantam Books, 1998), 225 pp., $22.95, ISBN0553106422, Random House, Inc., 1540 Broadway, New York, NY 10036, 1-800-323-9872. Straley's fifth crime novel tells a superb tale of unrelenting suspense and sly humor. When his P.I. business goes on the rocks, Cecil Younger jumps at the chance to investigate a series of unexplained deaths on a first-class cruise ship.

Warner, Irving. In Memory of Hawks & Other Stories from Alaska (Port Angeles, WA : Pleasure Boat Studio, 1998), 210 pp., paperback, $15.00, ISBN0965141349, 802 East Sixth, Port Angeles, WA 98362, 1-888-810-5308. Written between 1973 and 1998, the weave and fabric of these stories reflect Irving Warner's twenty-one years within the field of fisheries followed by twelve years teaching at a small college in Kodiak, Alaska. These are stories about living in the wild, often alone, sometimes with a small group of others. They tell of people who went to Alaska to escape their lives and who found, instead, that Alaska truly forced them to face the very evils which they'd hoped to leave behind.

Welther, Kenneth Edward. Eight Stars of Gold (Pittsburgh, Pa. : Dorrance Publishing Co., 1998), 73 pp., paperback, $9.35, ISBN0805943927, 643 Southfield St., Pittsburgh, PA 15222, 1-800-788-7654. Story of life in Alaska in the fifties and sixties. It tells the story of a young boy, love and romance, marriage, and the tragedies of life in a desolate area.
