Introduction

In the following pages, the Alaska State Library presents a summary of the public library statistics collected for FY94 and FY95. The tables in Part I offer a comparison by fiscal year to the FY93 national statistics. These were published by the National Center for Educational Statistics, U. S. Department of Education in Public Libraries in the United States: 1993. Parts II and III are the tables for FY94 and FY95 arranged first by city name and then by population. Included are statistics reported by the libraries as well as selected per capita computations. The libraries included in each year's reporting are those that received the Public Library Assistance Grant for that year.

The statistics collected are based on the Federal State Cooperative System for Public Library Data (FSCS) of the U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics. By using this national system and its definitions of terms, Alaska's data is comparable with that of the other 49 states and the District of Columbia. Of course, extreme caution should be used in comparing any one library with national or state averages. This is especially true of Alaskan libraries which tend to be atypical in size, and population served. The national data for FY94 is expected to be published in September 1996.

We hope this publication will be useful to administrators and library boards in planning, budgeting and public relations activities. All the information reported in the Annual Reports has been entered into a spreadsheet and specialized tables can be generated upon request. Please contact the State Library if you need special statistical information.

General Information On the Use of the Tables for Public Libraries

The data included in these tables was reported by public libraries in the Annual Reports for FY94 and FY95. Although all libraries reported income and expenditure information, not all libraries collected the same circulation and collection statistics. A number of libraries did not collect attendance, reference or program data. To make the tables more readable, data elements reported as zero and those reported as not collected have been left blank.

The population data was adjusted for some libraries in order to ensure a consistent method of counting and to eliminate double counting. The same sources and methods were used in this publication as in previous editions. In most cases, populations attributed to the city and borough libraries correspond to the populations of the area from which they receive tax revenue. The source of this information was the Department of Community and Regional Affairs' Certification of Population for the years cited. In the case of libraries located in unincorporated areas not certified by DCRA, the figures reported on the Annual Report were used. The population of legal service area for libraries in the Mat-Su and Kenai Boroughs were calculated as in previous years. Using DCRA figures, each library was credited with the population base of the city and a percentage of the borough wide population based on the percentage of materials circulated by each library. A. Holmes Johnson Memorial Library in Kodiak was given the population of the Kodiak Borough minus the populations of Chiniak, Old Harbor and Port Lions for the years those libraries reported data.

In FY90 we added a library entity called Bush Services. The data entered here is a total of the statistics reported for the Books by Mail programs run by the three Regional Libraries in Anchorage, Fairbanks and Juneau. The population assigned to this "library" is the official state population, minus the populations of those communities served by libraries. By using the statewide population figure and reporting all public library services, we feel the data more accurately reflects the true status of library services in Alaska.

The Tables

Table 1: Public Library Circulation and Interlibrary Loan

This table shows how often different types of library materials (books, magazines, audio tapes, videos, etc.) were checked out of the library as well as how often the library lent or received materials through Interlibrary Loan.

In FY94 Alaska's circulation per capita of 6.32 was just slightly under the national average in FY93 of 6.5. In FY95 Alaska's circulation statistics fell significantly (-6.5%) while population rose. The per capita circulation dropped to 5.84. Although no in-depth analysis has been conducted, it may be possible to postulate that in the smaller communities this drop was due to reduced open hours. This correlation however, does not hold true for libraries serving Alaska's larger communities. Current speculation is that the introduction of SLED in April of FY94 and the proliferation of home computers accessing the World Wide Web may be responsible. Libraries in larger communities experiencing a drop in circulation statistics have some factors in common. They are located in communities which have an AlaskaNet presence or a commercial Internet provider; they promote and offer Internet training; and some libraries provide full text products online and remotely accessible. Further research and comparisons with FY95 data from other states may help illuminate the reason.

The national average for Interlibrary Loan lending in FY93 was 31.3 items per 1,000 population. In Alaska it was 31.2 in FY94 and 41.0 in FY95. The Interlibrary Loan borrowing figures are even more striking. Alaskan libraries borrow almost twice as many items. In FY94 they borrowed 61.9 items per 1,000 population and 55.3 in FY95.

Table 2: Public Library Collections

Table 2 provides an overview of the size of a library's book, audio, video and magazine collections, the number of book volumes added during the year, and the number of book volumes per capita. In FY93 national volumes per capita was 2.7. In Alaska, per capita volumes has remained steady. The per capita was 3.07 in FY93 and FY94 and 3.09 in FY95.

Alaskan libraries continue to expand their collections with a wide range of media formats. Approximately 6% of Alaska's collections are audiovisual materials. In FY95 electronic media was added to the survey instrument recognizing that libraries have expanded their collections to include this format.

Table 3: Public Library Income

This table provides information on the sources of income for Alaskan libraries: Local (city or borough), State, Federal Government, and Other funding. Other is important for many of Alaska's smaller libraries because they are operated by private, non-profit organizations. The income from these non-governmental sources is reported under this category. Although it is hard to make comparisons year by year for the individual data elements in this table, generally, local support, as represented by Local and Other has increased. State funding has decreased, and Federal funding has risen slightly.

Table 4: Public Library Expenditures

This table shows how libraries spend their budgets. Columns are included for salaries, benefits, collections (books, magazines, audiovisual materials, etc.), operating expenditures (maintenance, travel, services and supplies), and capital expenditures (if any). When compared to national percentages, Alaskan libraries expend slightly more on operating expenditures and slightly less on collections.

In FY95 in Alaskan libraries, staffing costs were 66.1% of the budget, collections were 11.6%, and operational costs were 22%. Capital expenditures in FY94 and FY95 were greatly reduced from FY93.

Table 5: Public Library Expenditures on Collections

Table 5 subdivides the library collection expenditures by format: books, subscriptions, audiovisuals and other (microforms, software, maps, etc.) Collection expenditures per capita have remained fairly stable at approximately $3.50. In FY95 Alaskan libraries spent 55.2% of their collections budget on books and serials; 30% on periodicals; 6.5% on audiovisuals; and 8.3% on other materials.

Table 6: Public Library Staff and Volunteers

This table shows the composition of the library staff: Librarians with a masters degree in library science (MLS), all people working as librarians, and the technical and clerical staff. It also includes information on volunteers and the number of hours contributed to the library by volunteers, although these numbers may not be as reliable as the numbers reported for paid staff.

Current statistics indicate that in the area of staffing, libraries have scarcely kept up with population growth, and the increase is in the ranks of technicians and clerks. Despite the University of Arizona Distance Delivery MLS program, Alaska's public libraries gained only two MLS librarians between 1993 and 1995. Although the survey does not collect turnover statistics, it is assumed that recent graduates are filling MLS positions which become vacant.

Table 7: Public Library Hours, Attendance, Reference, and Programs

Table 7 covers the number of hours per week the library is open, annual library attendance, the number of reference questions answered, and the number of programs presented during the year. The last three are indicators of how heavily the library is used. It is the attendance and reference question data elements that small libraries find the most difficult to count and report accurately. The State Library encourages libraries to use a sampling technique as described in the Manual for Small Libraries to increase the reliability of this information.

Even in the case of the largest libraries these figures can be misleading. In FY94 Anchorage reported attendance for the main library only at 409,529. The FY95 figure including branch attendance is 924,154. Caution should be taken when using these statistics.
