

Alaska State Library Checklists

Get in-depth information about current topics through our Checklists. Each Checklist is comprised of articles and websites on today's top issues composed by our research librarians. They represent hours of research you don't have to do! Each article can be delivered directly to your workplace. You can see all the Checklists we offer and order those that interest you from our website. They cover a wide range of topics from education to medical leave to jury service and everywhere in between.

The Alaska State Library librarians choose topics based on current legislative and state issues then do extensive research, unearthing articles and websites that best represent the Checklist topic. These articles and websites are published and mailed to state employees and legislators. The most current Checklists are available right outside the Library door and a list of all our Checklists is online.

Go to our website at www.library.state.ak.us and find Checklists under Government Services. Select your preferred Checklists on our registration page. When your Checklists arrive, circle the articles you want, send it back, and within a few days the articles will arrive in the mail. It'll be the easiest research you've ever done! If you have more questions about Checklists or would like help signing up for this service, please contact us at 465-2920.

The main content area contains instructions: 'Please fill out the requestor identification information below.' and two bullet points: 'We would appreciate the entire form being filled out.' and 'Areas marked with * must be completed before sending your request.'
