Hello Amelia

20:51 to: Julie 1

Have you all recieved the pdfs that Sorrel sent?

21:29 to: hhunterscm

How were the pdfs sent?

22:54 to: Julie 1

When you joined the webinar you should of recieved a request to save a file

23:34 to: hhunterscm

Oh yes, I saved.

23:52 to: Amelia Wilson 1

Hi Julie, I think I was able to get one of them. Maybe I can follow up with you after to see if I got them all. Sorry I joined late, had trouble getting the program to run :)

24:45 to: Julie 1

Hi Ameila, Yes we will be happy to send them to you after the webinar.

Questions? Have any of you experiences any of these issues?

53:39 to: Miriam Dunbar

Are their any publishers that do a better job?

53:44 to: Lindsey Bennett

i noticed on the summer reading program manual that one of the sujested activity was making a dream catcher, since it takes the cultural context out is that a racist thing?

54:27 to: Julie 1

Cinco Punto is a small publishers

56:19 to: Valarie @ Seward Community 1

What can we do as librarians to encourage indigenous people to write thier own stories and history?

58:10 to: hhunterscm

Colloborate with small schools, talk to children and high school students about the importance of writing etc.
