Guide to Collection

Bayers, Lloyd H. (Kinky), 1911-1968

Captain Lloyd H. "Kinky" Bayers Collection, 1898-1967 (bulk 1924-1967)

MS 10

128 boxes (var. sizes)
Approx. 65 linear ft.

Processed by: Staff
Revised by: Staff, 5/12/2004

ACQUISITION: Lloyd Bayers' mother, Vera Bayers Soboleff, donated his collection to the library after his death in the summer of 1968 (no accession number.) Other Lloyd Bayers collections include PCA 127, Marine Vessels of Southeast Alaska.

ACCESS: The collection is open to research.

COPYRIGHT: Request for permission to publish or reproduce material from the collection should be discussed with the Librarian.

PROCESSING: The entire collection is housed in 127 archival boxes. The original order was maintained; Mr. Bayers organized his information generally by format and subject. He also created separate indexes for parts of the collection.

The Juneau Historical File [index cards] and a file titled Buildings Homes, Fires, etc. [index cards] were consolidated. References to individuals in those files were transferred to the People card files. References to Juneau and individuals in an Alaska Historical File were transferred to the Juneau Historical File and People files. These two card files were photocopied and placed in binders (Reading Room). Minimal changes were made to headings for clarification.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Lloyd H. "Kinky" Bayers was born July 6, 1911 in Juneau to Vera Soboleff Bayers (daughter of Father John Soboleff) and Harry "Tay Bayers," a boatman from Maine, who came to Killisnoo with his two brothers and worked for the Alaska Oil and Guano Company, manufacturing oil and fertilizer from herring.

Lloyd and his five sisters attended school at Kake and Juneau. He was a member of the Juneau High School basketball team, played on the De Molay team and served as an official and judge for the annual Gold Medal Tournament. Most of Lloyd's life work was involved with the sea. He worked summers with his father on various boats towing logs, tending fish traps and general freighting. In January 1931, he worked as a deckhand on the ESTEBETH, the mail boat that ran between Juneau and Sitka and other boats. When his father died, in April 1932, he worked various jobs for the Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Company to support his mother and sisters. In 1939 he purchased the M.V. FORESTER, a former cannery tender, and did towing, freighting, and charter work. Later, Bayers became captain of the fish packer, PELICAN. In 1941, he joined the U.S. Army Transport Service and commanded various Army small vessels, mostly in Southeast Alaska waters. After the war, Capt. Bayers went to work for the U.S. Geological Survey's Water Resources Division as master of the vessel, WATRES (formerly the ELISHA P. FERRY) transporting survey personnel in Southeast Alaska. He retired from this position in 1967 because of poor health and died of heart attack Mar. 5, 1968.

Captain Bayers was well known in Juneau, a local activist who often represented the underdog position. He opposed water meters for Juneau, the Alaska ferry system (as it was organized) urban renewal and the organization of borough Government. For many years the City Cafe in Juneau, known as the unofficial city council, served as a center for discussions on local topics and controversy and Bayers was a major participant. The source of his nickname is uncertain however it has been attributed to his involvement in controversies and alternatively to his habit of kinking the edges of playing cards. [Information from Robert DeArmond.]

SCOPE AND CONTENTS

The collection contains extensive files of information of personal interest to Capt. Bayers, which he obtained from individuals, Juneau newspapers (usually the Daily Alaska Dispatch and Daily Alaska Empire) and magazines, covering the early days of Alaska history up until his death in 1968.

The collection contains 291 spiral-bound notebooks, 28 scrapbooks and numerous manila envelopes with clippings about Juneau and other southeastern communities, local events, statistics, people, ships. In addition he typed information, anecdotes, and his own musings on 3x5" and 5x8" index cards. The collection also contains 28 photo albums of 5x7" black & white images and 44 photo postcard albums (also containing photographs.)

The card files are generally separated into 4 parts: Juneau Historical File, People, Miscellaneous Information and the General Marine File. The General Marine File is a major source of information on vessels of the Pacific Northwest, filed by vessel name. The Juneau Historical File also includes some references to marine vessels. His terminology is often colloquial, reflecting anecdotes and personal views. While the majority of people represented in the People card files have a Juneau relationship, Capt. Bayers included other Alaskans, early explorers, famous and notorious individuals. Information on individuals can also be found in the Clippings, the Spiral-Bound Notebooks, the Scrapbooks and Photo Albums. Often the information is indexed and sometimes cross-referenced from the card files.

References to magazine articles may appear, for example, "A.S." is used for Alaska Sportsman, however, there is no key.

The collection guide contains an overview of the collection and of the series established by the library. Indexes, available for the Spiral Bound Notebooks, Clippings, Photo Albums and Scrapbooks, follow the overview. The 127 boxes were numbered, beginning with No. 1 in each of Series 1, 2 and 3. The total being 83 boxes, Series 4 begins with Box No. 84.

INVENTORY OVERVIEW

MS 10-1 DIARIES OF CLIPPINGS & references, ships/marine information. 1800's-1951
Boxes 1-5
22 bound, handwritten journal/daybooks

MS 10-2 SPIRAL BOUND NOTEBOOKS
Boxes 1-34
Spiral Bound Notebooks No. 1-291

Series 2 contains 291 spiral-bound notebooks of newspaper and magazine clippings. Each notebook is generally devoted to a single subject; some cover a broad range of subjects. Some contain an index at the front and a few are also indexed in the card files. The bulk of the material dates from the mid-50's to the mid-60's, but some clippings are from earlier dates. The source is not always listed. A general index is available.

Ms 10-3 CLIPPINGS
Boxes 1-43
Envelopes of Newspaper and Magazine Clippings

Series 3 consists of 42 numbered document boxes containing newspaper and magazine clippings and other miscellaneous material in file folders and manila envelopes, most of which are labeled. A subject level index is available for all boxes and an item-by-item index is available for Boxes Nos. 12-15: People.

MS 10-3, Boxes 12 - 15: PEOPLE
Biographical information clipped from various Alaska newspapers during the 1950's and 1960's; arranged in alphabetical order with a list prepared by Barbara Cozzolino. In some cases names are out of alphabetical order because one page may have multiple names; names are in the order in which they can be found in the folder.

MS 10-4 POSTCARD ALBUMS
Boxes 83-102
Albums No. 1-44

Series 4 consists of 44 numbered, loose-leaf, hardcover albums of photo postcards and photographs, 8x10" and smaller. A general subject index is available, but nearly all have mixed contents. Some of the albums are also indexed on loose sheets as well as in the card indexes. A general index is available.

MS 10-5 SCRAPBOOKS

Box 103-113

Scrapbooks Nos. 29-57

Series 5 consists of 28 loose-leaf scrapbooks of various sizes containing newspaper clippings, magazine clippings, pictures and some typescripts. Some contain indexes filed in the front of the album. The series begins with No. 29, possibly because Mr. Bayers regarded these as a continuation of the Photo Albums numbered 1-28. A subject index is available.

MS 10-6 PHOTO ALBUMS

Boxes 114 – 116

Albums Nos. 1-28

This series consists of 28 cloth-bound albums containing 5x7" b&w photographs of ships and marine scenes, including shipwrecks. Each album contains an index. (The ship names are also indexed in the General Marine File card index.)

MS 10-3Clippings, cont.: People
Boxes 12 - 15

Includes biographical information clipped from various Alaska newspapers during the 1950's and 1960's. The clippings have been arranged in alphabetical order with a listing prepared by Barbara Cozzolino. Names are in the order in which they can be found in the folder. Some names are out of order because one page may have multiple names.
