ACCESSION: The photograph albums were donated in 1981 by Don R. Hunter of Laguna Hills, California, a nephew of Mrs. Zacharias.

Biographical Note

Lorain W. Roberts lived in Alaska from about 1913 to 1921 in the area of Chisana (also known as Shushana, Shushanna, or Qhisina) and Tolovana. Between 1914 and 1916 she married William (Will) M. Zacharias. Lorain and her husband travelled many miles in an oversized canoe filled with their worldly belongings and their dogs; Lorain and the dogs walked and hunted while her husband paddled the meanders of the river. After filing several productive claims (one recorded at Tolovana, Alaska), they were on their way back to the States when their Fairbanks hotel caught fire. Both escaped initially but Will died three days later from injuries received when he re-entered the building to rescue other victims. Lorain died in Huntington Beach, California. Other photographers represented in the collection include Winter & Pond, Case & Draper, Wolfe, L.H. Smith, and J. Doody.
Scope and Contents

Lorain Roberts Zacharias collected photographs from several locations with views primarily of mining activities in Dawson and Chisana, family views, and scenics. The collection also contains a mining claim location notice, notes with penciled drawing from her husband, and other papers.
