

Building A Better World Through Reading

Children who participated in Alaska's 2017 Summer Reading Program built reading skills, investigated communities, and strengthened relationships.

Support

$10,217

State Funds
Leveraged

$83,840

Local Community
Funds

Participation

12,247

Children

1,686

Teens

2,704

Adults

58

Libraries

Impact

Haines children visit a construction site.

"The children who came journaled the summer activities they were doing with their families to show how they were "making the world better", starting with strong families."

- Librarian,
Innoko River School
and Tribal Library

"This year we had the most reading hours ever logged:
2,300 hours."

- Librarian,
Tok Community Library

